PAW PAW RIVER IS CLEAN, COOL

SAFE FOR SWIMMING: Two-year study of the quality of water in Paw Paw river by two Andrews university researchers says river is clean enough its entire length to meet state standards for total body

Swimming's Safe Along Course In Berrien And Van Buren

By JERRY KRIEGER
County-Farm Editor

The waters of the Paw Paw river in Berrien and Van Buren counties run clean and clear enough for swimming anywhere along its course.

Not only is the Paw Paw cleaner than the St. Joseph river, it flows several degrees cooler in the summer.

These are preliminary findings from a two-year water quality study of the Paw Paw river by Dr. Gerald Snow, assistant professor in the biology department at Andrews university, and his graduate research assistant, Norbert Jaeger of Bridgman.

The study was conducted concurrently with a study the two made of the St. Joseph river water quality. Preliminary results revealed earlier from the St. Joseph study indicated contamination of the St. Joseph is somewhat higher, and much of the contamination flows over the state line from Indiana.

The water quality investigations, conducted in 1973 and 1974, were supported by a research grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation, Battle Creek.

Snow said he found no previous formal data on the quality of the Paw Paw river, other than informal reports from persons well acquainted with the Paw Paw river for many years. These reports, he said, suggest the Paw Paw now is cleaner than it has been for some years.

The Andrews researcher noted that in the past year or two the Watervliet paper mill has diverted all of its wastewater discharge away from the river. There is improved sewage treatment at the Watervliet-Coloma areas as result of a new sewage treatment plant and an expanded sewage collection system. And he also said there has been improved control of industrial waste discharge in the lower part of the river at Benton Harbor.

Three monitoring stations were established by the two researchers from Lawrence in Van Buren county to the mouth in Benton Harbor. Water samples were taken at regular intervals and analyzed.

Five factors were examined as indicators of the water's purity: Bacteria, dissolved oxygen, algae, nitrate and phosphate nutrients, and aquatic insects.

The first four of the five factors all said the water would usually meet the new state standards for total body contact recreation (swimming, that is) the full length of the monitored stretches the river, even at the mouth. Dr. Snow, who said the raw data from the study is now being assembled into final form for more precise conclusions, noted that when the St. Joseph river was high and backed up into the Paw Paw mouth, the mouth of the river showed some pollution.

The most sensitive of the five indicators, aquatic insects, showed there was some decline in water quality in the Benton Harbor area. This decrease was so relatively slight, however, that the other indicators did not pick up this drop in quality.

Dr. Snow explained that different kinds of aquatic insects occur by water of different quality levels. One kind that likes high quality water, the Caddis flies, were found in greatest abundance at the Lawrence monitoring station and in declining numbers down stream. Other kinds of water insects that inhabit areas of lesser water quality were found in the Benton Harbor area.

No tests were made for insect.

Pioneer Industry Will End Production At Niles

By JOHN DYE

South Berrien Bureau
NILES — Kawneer company announced this morning that it plans to close its Front street plant here, "in the near future."

The announced closing marks the second plant shut down in Niles by Kawneer and an end to all production operations here. In February, the company said it would close down its Third street facility by May 1.

The firm has had production in Niles since 1907.

Donald Carson, director of industrial relations for the firm, said the target date for closing of the Front street operation is Aug. 1, but that date is only tentative.

Carson said Kawneer, a subsidiary of Alumax, incorporated, San Mateo, Calif., plans to maintain its corporate offices in Niles.

Closing of the two plants will mean the loss of about 139 jobs for production workers and their supervisory personnel, Carson said. The firm employed about 260 at both plants before recent layoffs.

In a letter to employee representatives delivered this morning the company said it was discontinuing all production operations in Niles, "in order to achieve substantial reduction in the costs of manufacturing and general overhead, reduce the operating losses that the company has actually experienced and anticipates during 1975 on Niles operations, and thus maintain or improve its competitive position in the architectural aluminum industry."

Eight other Kawneer plants in Indiana, Kentucky, Virginia, and California will remain in operation, but the company said a reduction in orders and the general economic condition has forced layoffs at the other facilities.

The company manufactures a variety of architectural aluminum products.

Winning Numbers

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — The winning Green Game numbers in today's regular weekly Bureau of the State Lottery drawing are: seven-five-one and zero-eight-five.

The Million Dollar number is nine-nine-two-five-eight-two.

The Jackpot Gold Game numbers are: three-two-seven-seven-eight-seven and five-six-six-zero-three.

The number for the 18th drawing in the state's million-dollar lottery is seven-nine-three, the state Lottery Bureau said Wednesday.

The number is good only on stubs of checks for winning green 50-cent tickets purchased before Feb. 27.

One Killed By Sniper In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — A 17-year-old South Side youth who police said went berserk killed one man and seriously wounded another with a carbine before he was subdued, officers said.

Police said the youth, Larry Cole, also fired more than 20 shots from an apartment building at officers on the street while two patrolmen entered the building.

Officers Frank Gatz and Thomas M. Code broke in a door with a sledgehammer and disarmed Cole. They said he was still firing out into the street with an M1 carbine when they broke in.

Gatz said he and Code went to the building to investigate a report of an injured youth. They found the body of Alvin Lewis, 25, of Chicago, lying in a first-floor hallway. He had been shot in the chest and mouth.

An injured man identified as Willie Greenleaf, 23, staggered toward the officers and said someone was firing from an upstairs window.

While Gatz and Code were going upstairs, Cole began firing on police reinforcements gathering outside.

Greenleaf was taken to a South Side hospital with bullet wounds in the chest, abdomen and arm.

No charges were filed against Cole immediately.

FREE FOR MONTH

Escapee Recaptured At Stevensville Bar

A month's freedom ended last night for a 29-year-old former Benton township man when he was recaptured in a tavern near Stevensville after his March 22 escape from a prison work farm.

Arrested by Berrien sheriff's deputies on a fugitive escape warrant was Dallas Martin Taylor, 28.

Deputies reported Taylor escaped from Camp Sable at Eresosil in Mason county. He was apprehended about 9:30 p.m. Wednesday inside the Sun Downer tavern, 6032 Red Arrow highway, near Stevensville. Detectives Fred Reeves and Dave Sweet entered the tavern and made the arrest without incident.

Deputies reported they received an anonymous telephone tip about 9 p.m. as to Taylor's whereabouts. A case of mistaken identity in making the arrest would be rather difficult as police records state portions of Taylor's arms, back, chest and legs are covered with an estimated 25 tattoos.

Taylor was sentenced to serve 4 to 7 years in prison on July 10, 1974, after he pleaded guilty to a charge of delivery of amphetamines. He was lodged at the Southern Michigan prison at Jackson and later transferred to Camp Sable, a minimum security facility, according to police records.

Deputies reported Taylor would probably be returned to Southern Michigan prison within the next few days.

Officers said they did not know how Taylor sustained himself for the past month.

Not Coming To U-M

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger has canceled his scheduled May 3 appearance at the University of Michigan's spring commencement, university officials said Wednesday night. No specific reason was given for the cancellation, and no replacement keynote speaker was announced. "The secretary had hoped to be able to attend but now finds the press of business will make it impossible to do so," U-M said. President Ford was the main speaker at U-M's commencement a year ago when he was vice president.

Lincoln Supervisor's Son Among Americans Leaving South Vietnam

By ALAN AREND
Staff Writer

Duane E. Hauch, a former Stevensville resident who has spent most of the last 10 years in Vietnam, has been forced to leave the war-torn country along with other Americans there.

Hauch's departure was reported to his family by people who saw him being interviewed via television as he stepped from a plane in Manila, Philippines Tuesday night.

Hauch is the son of bmr. and Mrs. Ernest Hauch, 4839 Cleveland avenue. His father is Lincoln township supervisor.

Hauch said this morning that the family was still waiting to hear from Duane.

Hauch said his son, had been teaching at the University of Saigon, for the past several years. His son, 35, was a lieutenant in the Air Force, serving in Vietnam from December, 1965, to December, 1966, leading to his stay there as a civilian.

During that tour of duty Hauch in his sparetime taught English to the South Vietnamese people and started an English library in South Vietnam with the help of some 1,200 books sent to him by residents of the Stevensville area.

Hauch's father said that he and his wife missed the newscast Tuesday night, but he has received numerous phone calls from friends who saw the interview with his son. Hauch said he heard his son had described the situation in South Vietnam as chaotic, and that his son expressed how bad and scared the people of South Vietnam felt that the Americans were leaving. He said his son said in the interview that many of the South Vietnamese people feared for their lives and were very sad. Hauch said his son's last letter told of the possibility of a job prospect in Manila, if things went bad in South Vietnam. "We haven't had a call from him yet, so I don't know what his plans are at the moment," Hauch said. "I do know he had become very attached to the South Vietnamese people and their fight against communism."

research work for the Ford Foundation. A 1968 graduate of St. Joseph high school, Hauch received his bachelor's degree in literature and arts from Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., and his master's degree in counseling from the University of Dayton, Dayton, Ohio. This newspaper ran a feature article with pictures on Hauch's work with South Vietnamese people in June, 1966.

"Through the years, he has become emotionally involved with the South Vietnamese people," Hauch said. "Our family is anxious to talk with him."

Keeler Man Gets Belated Try At $200,000 Prize

An unclaimed state lottery ticket qualifying its holder for at least $10,000 and a shot at a $200,000 super drawing prize has been claimed by a Keeler area man.

Roy Bisnett, 68th street, Keeler township, said he has notified state lottery officials that he had the ticket.

The ticket, purchased from a Sister Lakes store in December, had been unclaimed because Bisnett said he was vacationing in Florida.

According to Bisnett, he learned of the winning ticket when he returned home earlier this month.

Lottery officials said yesterday they will assign Bisnett, 57, a spot in a future super drawing once the ticket is verified.

Under lottery rules, a contestant in a super drawing is guaranteed at least a $10,000 award as well as the chance for the $200,000 super drawing top prize.

To qualify for the super drawing, a ticket must match both weekly numbers for a particular drawing date.

Ticket holders have until one year from the anniversary of the drawing date to claim lottery winnings.

Bisnett is a farmer and he and his wife, Theresa, have three children.

He did not know what he might do with his lottery money, but he indicated he might retire or just pay some bills.

Legislators Living The Good Life In Lansing

Last week some enterprising reporters for those Michigan newspapers having their own news bureaus at Lansing dug out the entrancing tidbit of the legislature voting $200,000 for spiffing up its members' offices.

Dipping the biggest spoon into the gravy boat was Joseph Mack, a Democrat, well on his way to serving a life term in the state senate from the Upper Peninsula district centering around Ironwood. His colleagues bestowed $37,000 upon the Hon. Mack for enhanced quarters.

Early in his political career, Mack was a rip snorting, New Dealish type of spokesman for the downtrodden and others beyond the establishment's pale. The $37,000 for new drapes, carpeting, furniture, decorating, etc., is proof that an advocate for the oppressed need not necessarily have to make do with an old orange crate for a desk. Indeed the improved surroundings should improve the efficiency of his advocacy.

Considering that today 19 per cent of the GNP (gross national product) goes for government payrolls and that total government spending soaks up a third of all the wealth created in the U.S., as compared to a tenth for 1929, the refurbishing binge can be judge from opposite ends of the field.

It is the straw breaking the camel's back.

How can another $200,000 extravagance noticeably weaken the poor camel staggering under a load measurable, if at all, in the billions?

Before delivering our own verdict, there is a mitigating word which can be said for the legislature.

The capitol building is of post Civil War vintage erected in a day when it could house the legislative, executive and judicial (state supreme court) branches and have room to spare.

As government has grown in response to a citizen demand, to be fully truthful about the matter, for government to do all things and come up with all the answers, more bodies have had to be put on the payroll and more room found to house them.

The state supreme court now has its own temple and all of the executive branches either have their separate quarters as does the highway department or are esconced in outside office buildings.

The Governor and the legislature are about the only remaining tenants in the capitol building itself.

These facilities are none too sumptuous; they are cramped; and almost entirely lacking in the efficiency standards characterizing present day office design.

For several years the Lansing clouds have thundered on updating the old capitol building.

Put forth as the ideal solution is replacing the old timer with a late 20th century structure.

Historical buffs fight the thought of razing the present building. Various architectural drawings for a new structure are no great thing of beauty. Finding a $100 million or whatever it might cost to relocate the Governor and the legislature has been a sticky debate because of the constitutional requirement for balanced budgets.

The $200,000 decorating tab is a slap happy, temporary compromise with those harsh realities.

It solves nothing but it does cause the man in the street to break out with eczema.

About the best to be said for this gilding of the lily is that it gives some work at inflated union wages to some Lansing painters and carpenters who otherwise are not overly employed at this time.

The most an outsider can hope from the outlay is that the freshened surroundings might inspire Mack and others to do a better job for their constituents. Like, for example, desist from slapping more taxes on them every time the grandfather clock in the capitol's lobby tolls a change in hours.

The Fragrance Is Gone From The U.S. Senate

Something seems missing in Congress and we may have discovered what it is. Along about this time every year the late Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen took to the floor for his annual oratorical excursion in behalf of the marigold.

Not only was the senator a marigold partisan, he had great hopes that he could elevate its status to that of national flower. It must have been one of his life's greater disappointments that he failed. But for a moment each year the legislative process came to a halt while members and spectators leaned back to listen to the Dirksen recital.

Here is what Everett Dirksen had to say in one of his last appearances in behalf of a favored constituent:

"The marigold is a native of North America and can in truth and in fact be called an 'American flower.' It is not temperamental about fertility; it resists its natural enemies, the insects.

"Its spectacular colors — lemon and orange, rich brown and deep mahogany — befit the imaginative qualities of this nation.

"It is as sprightly as the daffodil, as colorful as the rose, as resolute as the zinnia, as delicate as the carnation, as haughty as the chrysanthemum, as aggressive as the petunia, as ubiquitous as the violet, as stately as the snapdragon.

"It rebuilds the senses and enobles the spirit of man."

Perhaps one of the reasons members of the Senate did not adopt Sen. Dirksen's resolution in the past was his annual forensic display in its behalf. The words are heard no longer, but the fragrance lingers on.

Motorists Slowed By Chickens

Traffic controllers have tried many devices to persuade errant motorists to behave themselves, but some enterprising folks in Napa, Calif., have come up with one of the best.

Annoyed by motorists who refused to slow down when passing a busy park, officials introduced a flock of chickens to the roadway by the park.

"Only occasionally does an errant driver charge through the flock," reports the park superintendent. Only nine casualties, all chickens, have been reported in the nine months the feathered brigade has been on the job.

A TRIBUTE TO JUSTICE KAVANACH

The 65,000 Knights of Columbus in Michigan are deeply grieved by the passing of one of their finest brothers, Michigan Supreme Court Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh.

Justice Kavanagh, or Tom as he was known by most of us who knew him well, was an inspiration to all of us. His dedication to his church and to the cause on Columbianism and its precepts will long be remembered.

Justice Kavanagh was a Supreme Director of the Knights and, from 1968 to 1970, was state deputy of the Knights. He was also a member of the

DIRECTOR EXPLAINS ACLU POSITION

The American Civil Liberties Union of Michigan opposes campaign reform laws that compel disclosure of the names of contributors to political candidates, committees, or parties. The Board of Directors of the ACLU of Michigan took the position at its meeting of February 22, 1975 that such disclosure requirements would not only have a "chilling effect" on the right of individuals to support the candidate or political party of their choice, they are also an unconstitutional invasion of privacy and a threat to the protected First Amendment rights of Free Speech and Association.

On the 22nd of March, Common Cause of Michigan announced the initiation of its drive to have the Legislature adopt a comprehensive campaign reform package. (Falling that, Common Cause plans a petition drive to place their campaign reform package before the electorate in the form of a referendum.) Common Cause's campaign reform package includes a provision requiring the public disclosure of the names, addresses and occupations of all persons who contribute $50.00 or more to a political campaign. A Michigan law, which becomes effective in July, requires disclosure of the sources of contributions of $10.00 or more. The Common Cause proposal is some improvement, but any disclosure requirement at all is a threat to constitutional rights.

Disclosure requirements are an invasion of privacy. The public reporting of names, addresses, and occupations of contributors to political causes is a violation of political anonymity, anonymity which must be available to participants in the political process of a free society. The American Civil Liberties Union of Michigan opposes any requirement for disclosure of political contributions; as it would any requirement of disclosure of how individual citizens vote. The importance of protecting privacy and political anonymity can hardly be overestimated in light of recent revelations not only involving the events surrounding Watergate, but also of FBI and CIA

A deluging, four-inch downpour of rain Sunday night, punctuated continuously by lightning and three rattling rounds of hail, left floods and heavy damage in its wake in this area this morning. US-12 and US-31 on East Main street in downtown Benton Harbor were blocked to traffic as a flash flood raged over the banks of Ox creek. M-139 was severed by a wash-out that undermined the pavement at Yellow creek, several hundred yards south of the Somerleyton bridge across the St. Joseph river. Despite the flood control work along Ox creek in Benton Harbor, the muddy waters boiled across both Main street and Territorial road and was within inches of going over North Shore drive here. A number of other roads throughout the northern half of the county were reported under water this morning.

Blossom Week observance — May 3 to 10 — promises this year to rival past celebrations by a mile. The warm weather of the past few days has so far advanced vegetation that the buds are fairly bursting in their eagerness to show the world what Berries abloom looks like. The annual Junior farce was given its premier presentation at the St. Joseph high school auditorium last evening by the class of 1925. The farce "Green Stockings" was cleverly chosen and well interpreted, by representative members of the class. Miss Sylvia Geronde introduced the play. Leading roles were played by Adella Clark, Dorothy McAfee, Adelaide McLin, Oscar Schmidt, Cecelia Luchie, Helen Corolla, William Gant, Stanley Marot, Walter Holzman, Albert Krume, Gerald Briggs and Arnold Lemke. The farce was directed by Harold Fell. Miss Nellie Richmond acted in the capacity of advisor.

A Washington telegram dated Monday, April 23, says Senator Burrows has introduced a bill granting the consent of Congress to the building of a dam across the St. Joseph river near Berrien Springs.

About three o'clock Monday afternoon while Omar Brewster was loading wine crates at the Anderson-Tully box factory in Benton Harbor his team, which were unhitched from the wagon, broke loose from their fastenings and made a lively run through the streets and were finally stopped on Pipestone street, near the Congregational church. No damage was done. This was the third runaway of the day.

U.S. Officials Irked By Israel

WASHINGTON — White House and State Department officials are now so angry with Israel they no longer bother to hide their feelings.

Their unhappiness came to the surface publicly with the recent collapse of Secretary of State Kissinger's Middle East negotiations. But the Israeli intransigence, as they see it, has blocked negotiations, not just this once, but time and again.

The disillusionment with Israel, as a matter of fact, began several years back, about the time President Anwar Sadat began to signal a less-hard attitude. Three times he sent word by unofficial messengers, one a friend of mine, asking for improved relations with the United States and hinting the time was ripe for peaceful settlement with Israel.

At that time, the State Department had, through independent investigations, determined that major changes were taking place in the thinking of the upper echelons of Egyptian society — a change reflected in the attitudes of higher Egyptian officials. There was a growing feeling along the Nile that Egypt's progress as a nation was being hampered by the continual preoccupation over a war with Israel and by pan Arabism, Egypt would be better, this thinking went, to devote its attention to the development of the nation, rather to siphon off capital and energy in an endless war — all providing a reasonable peace settlement could be achieved.

All this led the State Department to a careful and lengthy sounding out of the Israeli government and its more influential leaders. These U.S. diplomats found no give in Tel Aviv.

A little later, a high official in this government closely tied discussions with both Israel and Egypt, spoke bitterly and privately of the frustration he and his associates felt about what he called the hard inflexibility of the Israeli position.

It was his belief, expressed in quite some detail, that President Sadat had gone as far as he could go at that stage of the game in opening the door for compromise. Sadat, the official said, had made a major break with the past at some risk to himself.

My source said he and his associates had attempted to get the Israelis to make a comparable shift. Their efforts were in vain; they were at a deadend and he did not know what to do next.

The official was despondent. Both sides had been hard-nosed for so many years the United States had about given up hope for a solution. Here, at last, as they saw it, one side was making a breakthrough and giving a chance to an arrangement which conceivably could end the decades of warring. But compromise takes two.

It should be noted that, contrary to what Kissinger has implied, this Israeli reluctance to budge as far as American officials believe necessary, did not begin after Congress began to turn a deaf ear to Cambodian and South Vietnamese entreaties for more aid. Rather, the problem, at least as Washington officials in the know see it, began in the period when U.S. troops were in Vietnam fighting and dying to back up an ally.

The problem as outlined by State Department sources, is not limited to Israeli reluctance to give up more occupied territory without greater Egyptian concessions. Rather it is apparently an Israeli unwillingness to enter into frank wide-ranging negotiations concerning the future of those Arabs who fled from Israel in the wars, the future of Jerusalem, holy to the Arabs as well as to Jews, and the future of the West Bank of the Jordan.

George McGovern Won After All

The day after the 1972 election, in which Senator George McGovern was buried beneath the scorn of the electorate, you would have been called crazy if you had predicted that two and one half years later McGovern's entire program would prevail in the United States.

Essentially, McGovern stood for income redistribution at home and for a global contraction of U.S. power. On Vietnam, Richard Nixon stressed the need for orderly withdrawal and a "reasonable chance" for South Vietnam, while McGovern favored getting out at any price in American prestige and credibility and whatever happened to the South Vietnamese. He would go, on his knees, to Hanoi.

The electorate overwhelmingly rejected McGovern and his package, but that is precisely what we are getting from the present Congress.

Look round the habitable world, as John Dryden said:

Congress is making a huge contribution to the unraveling of NATO, hitherto a vital institution of our global security. At the eastern end of the alliance, punitive cuts in aid to Turkey may well force that tough ally out of the alliance altogether, and, if so, quite possibly into the arms of radical Arab nationalists like Muammar el-Qaddafi of Libya and Houari Boumedienne of Algeria.

Americans who served in Korea can testify to the fighting ability of the Turks, who are among the world's finest soldiers. These facts, however, do not trouble the current crop of statesmen on Capitol Hill, whose anti-Turkish moves result largely from the pressure of the Greek-American community.

On NATO's Western flank, Portugal is in the later stages of a Communist takeover. This has been a brilliant political operation, in view of the heavy support for the Communist Party inside Portugal, but Communist leader Alvaro Cunhal has long worked in harness with the Soviet KGB, and they have done their work well.

At some point in this operation, timely help to Portuguese anti-Communists might have averted the worst. But Congress has effectively destroyed the CIA's capacity for covert operations under such circumstances. Before mounting any actions, the CIA must inform three different committees of Congress, some 40 or so individuals — after which, no doubt, the names and addresses of our clandestine operatives would appear on the front page of the New York Times. Into this vacuum, the KGB is surely moving even now.

In Vietnam, of course, McGovern has won big. In the summer of 1973, Congress eliminated one deterrent to North Vietnamese aggression — the capacity of the President to use U.S. airpower. Simultaneously, through aid cuts, Congress was reducing ARVN mobility and firepower, and, more damaging still, giving a clear signal of its declining interest in the fortunes of Saigon. The demoralization has resulted in maximum damage to U.S. prestige and credibility.

Even the Australians are now examining their traditional assumptions about U.S. dependability. In a recent interview, for example, Lt. General Sir Mervyn Borgan, former chief of the Australian General Staff, noted that the threat to the security of the region "must now be more imminent. . . . The domino theory has got to be given a certain amount of credence. If the dominoes don't fall down right before your eyes, a situation can nevertheless arise in which there will be a creeping paralysis throughout the whole area."

So George McGovern won after all. His spirit dominates the 96th Congress, which holds the policy initiative both at home and abroad.

Expansion Underway At Hull's Apartments

By RALPH LUTZ
Staff Writer

Construction has begun in Benton township on Hull's Terra, Part 2, an 88-unit, $1.2 million apartment project for low and middle-income families that is subsidized four ways.

—Construction financing is with public funds, through the Michigan State Housing Authority.

—Loan payments are spread over 40 years, with interest set at only 1 per cent.

—Low income tenants are charged less than the open market rental rates. Subsidies from the state make up the difference.

—The Benton township board has granted the project tax relief by substituting an annual service fee for property taxes.

The fee will produce about one-half the income that would be received from taxes. Losers in the tax break are Benton Harbor schools, the county and township.

The only stipulation is that 25 per cent of the apartment units be for senior citizens, according to Cullen Dubose, director of management and marketing for the state housing authority.

Dubose said under a state formula, senior citizens with only a meager income would not pay more than 25 per cent of their annual income for rent. Rent charged to these would range from $60 to $90 a month, Dubose said.

Other low and middle-income occupants would pay from $125 to $140 per month, depending on income, number in the family, and type of apartment unit rented, said Barbara Huckaby, an officer of H & H Construction Co., headed by Ellis Hull Sr.

Hull's Terra, developed by Hull, is at 1946 East Britain avenue, between Crystal and Euclid avenues.

Ground-breaking ceremonies Wednesday launched the second part of the project, to be completed by October, 1976. Included will be 24 three-bedroom; 48 two-bedroom; and 16 one-bedroom units, in 11 buildings.

The first phase is completed. This consists of 110 units in 17 buildings, a community building, swimming pool, basketball court and off-street parking.

Dubose said 101 units in the completed portion are occupied, but he didn't know offhand how many house senior citizens.

Hull's H & H Construction Co. built the first portion, but Hull said Poole Construction Co., Berrien Springs, will build the second portion. Hull said he couldn't construct this because of a shortage of money, especially with a $2 million bond he would be required to post.

Hull related that while he is the developer of the entire project and principal owner, there are other backers, termed "silent."

For tax purposes, the property is in the name of Ellis Hull, on township records, a member of the Benton township board of trustees told this newspaper.

The township board, in a 4-3 split vote on April 1, granted tax relief to Hull's Terra. This relief is provided by a state housing authority law. Hull's Terra will pay an annual service fee of $38,235, in lieu of property taxes, that would have amounted to $76,190 for the entire project, according to Cathryn Sirk, township clerk.

The service fee is based on 15 per cent of 90 per cent gross rent per year.

Stockman Attacks Congress Spenders

DAVID STOCKMAN
Warns of Spending Spree

'Freshman Follies' Could Fire Inflation, He Tells Lakeshore Chamber

By MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

"Freshman Follies" was the topic of an address yesterday by David Stockman, executive director of the U.S. House of Representatives Republican caucus, to the Lakeshore Chamber of Commerce.

And the "follies" Stockman described were those by newly-elected Democrats on a "wild spending spree" at taxpayers' expense.

"Congress is going to have to restrain itself from additional spending if we are going to recover from the current recession," the Lakeshore high school graduate warned.

"The economic future of the U.S. in the next five years will be determined by what Congress does in the next five months," Stockman said. He said President Ford's $32 billion deficit wasn't too large and could be absorbed, but said congressional Democrats were pushing a "mania of anti-recession proposals" which could send inflation rate spiraling.

Stockman lashed Democrats during a noon meeting of the chamber at McGrath's restaurant. He made no mention of his own future political plans, although he has been tagged as a possible candidate against Congressman Edward Hutchinson in the 1976 Republican primary.

Stockman said increases in social security, food stamp and other federal programs have already raised the real federal deficit to $65 billion. He warned that Congress is considering a myriad of anti-recession bills which could skyrocket the deficit to $130 billion. He concluded that the only possibility of avoiding the inflation-causing deficit would be the gathering of enough support in Congress to sustain Ford's veto of the bills.

Stockman is a graduate of Michigan State university and is a Fellow at Harvard university Institute of Politics.

As a student at Harvard in 1970, Stockman interrupted his studies to take a position with Rep. John B. Anderson, chairman of the House Republican conference. In January, 1972, Anderson promoted Stockman to executive director of the conference. At age 25, he became the youngest person to hold what is considered one of the most important Republican staff positions in the House of Representatives.

Reserve SJ Tennis Courts By Phone

Tennis court reservations by telephone will start this weekend for St. Joseph's Stubbelfield and Kiwanis park courts, according to James Talbot, superintendent of public works. The answering service number to make reservations is the same as last year, 963-0244.

Talbot said the answering service begins today for weekend reservations only.

Starting May 22, the answering service will reserve courts for every day in the week. Calls must be placed anytime before 7 a.m. on the day the player wants a court reserved. At that time the list is taken from the answering service and posted at Stubbelfield courts, Stadium drive, and Kiwanis park at Langley avenue and Pearl streets.

Apartment Damaged By Fire In SJ

Fire extensively damaged the living room in an upstairs apartment of a house at 517 Price street, St. Joseph, Wednesday evening. St. Joseph firemen reported.

The fire started in a sofa in an apartment occupied by Larry Hardenberg. Owner of the building is John Hardenberg, firemen reported. Firemen reported flames, damaged walls and ceiling. No one was in the apartment at the time of the fire.

Slain Boy's Body Found At LaPorte

LAPORTE, Ind. (AP) — Two mushroom hunters discovered the body of a Michigan City teen-ager, Wednesday, and Sheriff Roger Nickell said the youth was stabbed eight or nine times in the chest and abdomen. Nickell said Jeffery Allen Harmon, 16, last was seen Tuesday night at an intersection in LaPorte. The body was found in heavy brush along a county road west of LaPorte.

An autopsy was scheduled.

TO SEEK DAD'S SEAT — ST. LOUIS (AP) — Democratic Rep. James W. Symington will probably try to succeed his father, Sen. Stuart Symington, in the Senate in 1978, according to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Committee Says Fairplain Drive For City Won't Falter

The Committee for the City of Fairplain announced today that a temporary restraining order untabled for incorporation.

The committee's rough Chairman Richard Hagenauer said work leading to incorporation is proceeding despite the injunction obtained by Benton and St. Joseph townships against the State Boundary commission.

Hagenauer said: "The net effect of these township officials' maneuvers is that it will be wasting the tax dollars of the people of both townships and putting it into lawyers' pockets. These are dollars that could better be spent on township services."

The restraining order issued in Ingham county circuit court means, the boundary commission's order for incorporation can't become final until further notice by the court. The court ruling does not prevent the Fairplain committee from proceeding with research and plans for incorporation.

Hagenauer said: "We are working harder than ever, doing those things that normally would come latter in the process. He listed the steps:

1. Charter research.
2. Township asset appraisal.
3. Further budget planning.
4. Transitional programs.
5. Education and evaluation of potential charter commission candidates.
6. Communications both to and from the residents of Fairplain, the business community and other interested parties.

The statement from

Hagenauer on behalf of the committee concluded:

"The people of Fairplain have already passed two crucial and demanding tests set up specifically by the laws of the State of Michigan to insure competent, responsible and popularly supported requests for incorporation."

"The State Boundary commission also conducted a careful, and probing evaluation of the economic effect and the needs and ruled favorably by a margin of 4 to 1.

"We believe that the present incorporation laws of the State of Michigan are not only clear but also fair to all parties and that it is not only right but inevitable that the people of the Fairplain community who are more dedicated now than ever, to have their city."

The city of Fairplain would be composed of the western portion of Benton township and the eastern portion of St. Joseph township.

Annual Berrien Senior Citizens Birthday Party May 18 In SJ

The second annual senior citizens birthday party will be held Sunday, May 18 at Shadowland, St. Joseph, with every senior citizens in Berrien county invited.

Fob Selter on the St. Joseph Area Jaycees today outlined preliminary plans for the celebration.

Theme of the party will be: "Memories are made of this." Instead of a giant cake, however, 12,000 cookies will be served with coffee.

There will be music for dancing and singing.

Hundreds of old timers attended the first senior citizens birthday party last year. The Jaycees will be assisted in planning the event by the Senior Citizens Planning Council, Selter said.

Additional news on the event will be announced when committees have a chance to meet and formulate plans, Selter said.

MRS. LARRY McCLANAHAN AT FIREPLACE

MRS. ROBERT POSTELLI IN LIVING ROOM

An English Tudor home and a Swedish - gabled A-frame home will be featured in the eighth annual home tour sponsored by the Town and Country club of the Coloma - Watervliet area Sunday, April 27.

The tour is scheduled from 2 to 5 p.m. and tickets at $2 each may be purchased at any of the homes on the day of the tour and at Watervliet high school, where refreshments will be served. Tickets may also be purchased at Wil-O-Paw Inn and Badt's Rexall Drug Store, Coloma.

The English Tudor home is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Larry McClanahan and was built by McClanahan.

The Swedish - gabled A-frame home is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Postelli.

Other homes on the tour will be those of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Glover and Mr. and Mrs. James Hipskind.

Proceeds will be used for Watervliet community hospital, Coloma Ambulance fund and to send two handicapped children to summer camp.

The McClanahan home features an orchard clinker brick, raised hearth fireplace that can be used from the living room as well as the family room and has its own wood storage bin also used from both sides.

There is an intercom system throughout the home and an office which is attached to the home. A wrought-iron railing separates the foyer from the step-down living room which is decorated with red carpeting and drapes and gold furnishings. There is an English style wood beam mantel and coral pieces are displayed in the hearth.

A crystal chandelier enhances the formal dining area decorated with red and white wallpaper. The master bedroom and bath is decorated in aqua and blue tones and has a walk-in closet. The bathrooms feature marble top vanities. There is a doll collection from Mexico in the daughter's bedroom. The recreation room on the lower level features table tennis and a pool table. The Postelli home has a deck all around the home ending onto a patio with a swimming pool to the back.

It is decorated with aqua cedar paneling, a limestone wall with fireplace and provincial furnishings. The living room features a full wall of glassed sections to the cathedral ceiling and its open beams. An open stairway with a wrought iron rail leads to the master bedroom containing a relaxing area with a balcony overlooking the living room.

A view of the lake is seen from the living room and the master bedroom. The dining area features an antique trunk and built-in bookshelves and overlooks the pool.

The lower level consists of four bedrooms and a strikingly wallpapered bathroom. The boys decorated their own bedrooms. The daughter's room is of French provincial with purple carpeting and aqua walls.

Successful Play

Players Current Comedy

By ANITA SMITH
Staff Writer

A Neil Simon play, Twin City Players' many talents, and the direction of Courtney Johnson have combined for another excellent production for area theatregoers with the presentation of "Prisoner of Second Avenue" which opened last weekend.

The play will be presented again Friday through Sunday at Studio Theatre, Red Arrow highway at 1-94, Stevensville. Curtain time is 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 7 p.m. Sunday.

The timely comedy, set in 1973, finds a distraught advertising executive, Mel Edison, skillfully played by Mike Dorstewitz, suddenly fired because of a company employee cutback.

Norris Shankle gives a superb performance as Mel's wife, Edna, who must find a job to meet the everyday bills of high-rise living in New York City.

Phyllis Story, Laura Heuser, Kathy Meyers and Robert Vandenberg are hilarious and perfectly cast in their supporting roles as Mel's widowed sisters and brother.

Playwright Simon's witty lines were spontaneously executed by every member of the cast.

Lee Maikel is technical director and in charge of set design.

Other members of the production crew include Brent Martin and Rory McBeath, scenery; Carol Oudbier and Chris Nadeau, properties; Fred Peppel, Betty Aiken, Steve Hafer, Carol Oudbier and Lee Maikel, sound.

Also Ed Keeter, lights; Fred Peppel, Steve Hafer, Dennis Wagasy and Nancy Wagasy, box office; Gordon Formosa, publicity; Anne Kruggel, house manager; Sandy Heitman and Marion Reid, programs, and June Keeter, costumes.

Reading Corner Added

ELSA BREITENBACH READING CORNER

Honors BHHS Teacher

The Elsa Breitenbach Reading Corner has been added to the Alden Bierman library at Benton Harbor high school.

The reading corner is the result of a $1,000 bequest from the late Elsa Breitenbach, former English teacher, who died in April 1974.

Furnishings include two small couches, four chairs, three tables, shag rug, sculpture and several plants. The color scheme is orange and black, the school colors. It also includes a wall plaque inscribed "The Elsa Breitenbach Reading Corner."

Serving on the faculty committee to determine how the bequest was to be spent were Margaret VanAmerongen, Rene Williams, Georgia Atwood and Dennis Rothenburger.

Miss Breitenbach taught English at Benton Harbor high school from 1948 to 1965 and was advisor to the "Tiger", the school newspaper.

She received her bachelor of arts degree from Oshkosh State university and a master's degree in English from Northwestern university. She had taught in Wisconsin, Washington and Akron, Ohio, before coming to Benton Harbor.

Plan Weekend Event

A Lay Witness Mission Weekend will be held Friday, April 25, through Sunday, April 27, at Chapel Hill United Methodist church, Sodus.

A team of lay persons from all over Michigan and surrounding states will be speakers for the weekend, according to the Rev. Leonard Putnam, pastor.

Charles Gilpin is coordinator of the Lay Witness Mission. He is an active lay person from the Grandville United Methodist church and has been active on district and conference levels for the United Methodist church.

General chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor.

A full schedule has been planned for all ages. Separate activities are planned for adults, junior high, senior high and grade school children. Babysitters will be available during all sessions.

ATTENTION! Future Brides

Brides-to-be planning engagement announcements and wedding stories in this newspaper are asked to observe the following rules:

Engagement and wedding forms are available in the women's department at The Herald-Palladium offices in Benton Harbor or St. Joseph. The pertinent information should be typed or plainly printed in filling out these forms to prevent errors.

Wedding forms should be picked up at least two weeks and turned in one week before the wedding is to take place.

When wedding information is sent within two months of the engagement announcement date, only ONE picture will be run. The bride-to-be may have her choice.

Use proper names — not nicknames. In wedding information, use husband's names for married attendants.

Only pictures of the bride in her wedding dress will be used. Formal glossy black and white portraits are preferred.

Engagement and wedding pictures are usually available at this newspaper office after publication for a short time.

State Prisons Dangerously Overcrowded

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan prisons could be dangerously overcrowded by the end of summer, warns Corrections Director Perry Johnson.

Johnson said Wednesday there were 8,949 inmates in state penal institutions in early April, up 584 from January. He said continued growth of the prison population at that rate would lead rapidly to overcrowding.

Earlier predictions that prisons would reach an acceptable maximum capacity by next December were based on projections of 100 new incarcerations a month, Johnson said. But in a recent two-week period, there were 127 new prisoners, he said.

Johnson has recommended judges put more people on probation to ease prison crowding. Also more "halfway houses" should be established to acquaint inmates with the outside world before they are released on parole, he said.

He has run into conflict, however, with statistics that show about four out of 10 parolees eventually return to prison, half for committing crime and half for "technical parole violations" — that is not living up to rules laid down by the state Parole Board.

Recent crimes by convicts released under a new mental health code have prompted the introduction of about a half-dozen bills in the legislature to lengthen prison terms for felons and restrict the authority of the parole board.

The harshest bill would abolish the board's authority to release prisoners until their maximum terms expire. Under current Michigan law, inmates become eligible for parole after they have served their minimum sentences, less allowances for "good time" — time in which they have been good inmates.

"It's a serious dilemma. It's a mess no doubt about it," said a corrections department representative.

By July or August the prison system will reach "working capacity," which means all facilities will be utilized to their fullest, officials said.

After that, young prisoners would have to be put in with old ones, well with the sick and sane with psychotic, the representative said.

"You start putting people in gymnasiums and stacking up bunks in rooms. People are housed in psychiatric areas who don't belong there. You get tensions that could erupt," the representative said.

A recent state auditor general's report said Marquette State Prison is a potential fire trap and health hazard with a lax security system that could ignite revolt.

STATE CONTEST

Bridgman Hosting 800 Bandsmen

BRIDGMAN — Bridgman high school will host section-8 junior high competition of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra association's state contest Saturday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., according to Perry McCarty, band director.

Over 800 band and orchestra members of 14 bands will perform, according to McCarty. The bands will be competing for first through fifth division ratings. All qualified by receiving first division ratings at district competition.

Each group will have a performance of three prepared numbers. There will be no admission charge to the performances in the high school auditorium.

Tune schedule for band and orchestra performances are, according to McCarty:

8 a.m. — South Christian junior high band; 8:25 — Galien junior high band; 8:50 — Schoolcraft middle school band; 9:25 — Brandywine junior high band; 10:15 — Oakwood junior high band; 10:50 Oakdale Christian junior high string orchestra; 12:45 p.m. — E.E. Fell 7th grade orchestra; 1:10 — Oakwood junior high string orchestra; 1:35 — Sylvan Christian junior high string orchestra; 2:10 — Sturgis Central Intermediate orchestra; 2:35 — E.E. Fell junior high orchestra; 3:00 — Three Rivers junior high band; 3:25 — E.E. Fell junior high band.

The bands will compete in their respective class of competition, either AA, A, B, C, or D, according to McCarty.

Members of the Bridgman high school band and Bridgman band boosters will serve as hosts for the event.

Grand Mere Cleanup Is Saturday

Annual cleanup of the Grand Mere area has been set for Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. by the Grand Mere association. Persons interested in taking part in the project are to meet at the North Lake park for directions.

Berrien 4-H'ers Hold Spring Festival

Berrien 4-H youngsters presented 36 different demonstrations Saturday afternoon during the annual 4-H Spring Demonstration festival at Berrien Springs high school, according to Larry Cushman, Berrien 4-H agent.

About 200 people were on hand to watch the 4-H'ers tell or show, in an orderly way, how to do some task or project, according to co-chairmen Lee Ann Brewer and Sandy Jeffery.

Senior division (14-years and over) winners and runners-up follow:

Arts and Crafts, Debby Quinn, Coloma, and Jim Reeves, Niles; Foods, Susan Bennett, Berrien Springs, and Jan Lentz, Benton Harbor, both winners; Animals, Mary Nye and Sherree Schultz, both of St. Joseph, winners, and Ardie Long, Watervliet, runner-up.

Junior division winners and runners-up follow:

Arts and Crafts, Kim Davis, Berrien Springs, and Rose Ann Ster, Stevensville; Foods, Diana Farwell, Berrien Springs, and Nancy Chandler, Coloma;

Middaugh Is State Issues Chairman

LANSING — James M. Middaugh of Paw Paw has been elected chairman of the state Republican issues committee.

The committee is one of the party's most important committees, according to Jerry D. Roe, the state GOP executive director. It replaced the traditional platform committee, when the party two years ago abandoned a platform policies approach in favor of a study of major issues.

Middaugh, who is administrative assistant to State Sen. Charles Zoller of Benton Harbor, is the representative of the Fourth Congressional district on the issues committee.

The committee will meet next on June 13 and 14 in Holland and will outline plans then for a broad discussion of major issues of the day in all counties of the state. The committee then will select the top issues for presentation at the next state convention in June of 1976 at Grand Rapids, and for the second convention in August of that year. The primary purpose of the first convention is the selection of delegates to the national convention, and the second convention will deal with selection of candidates for state posts.

Ex-Policeman Pleads Guilty In Insurance Conspiracy Case

A former policeman has pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge in connection with an alleged insurance fraud, and a second man pleaded innocent in the case.

The two men were arrested by the Berrien Metro Crime squad Tuesday, according to Metro Commander Don Jewell.

Charged with conspiracy to obtain less than $100 under false pretenses from an insurance company were John Bellinger and Andrew "Cleve" Crumley. Bellinger admitted the charge in Fifth District court Tuesday. Crumley pleaded innocent.

Bellinger, 42, on 7059 Red Arrow highway, Stevensville, was a Benton Harbor patrolman for two years until 1962, and before that was Watervliet township's one-man department for four years. Crumley, 49, of Empire avenue, Benton Harbor, is owner of a small Benton township auto repair garage.

A third man, who allegedly was hired to steal an auto as a part of the scheme, was not charged. Jewell said that man is currently in the county jail waiting sentence on other unrelated charges.

Bellinger was accused of filing a claim for the loss of his 1972 station wagon and collecting over $2,800 from his insurance company. According to Jewell, Bellinger has agreed to make restitution of the insurance payment.

Bellinger, now a carpenter, was placed on presentence investigation and Crumley will await trial. They were freed on personal recognizance bonds of $1,000 and $1,500, respectively.

Ford Backs DES Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration is supporting legislation to ban use of the cancer-causing growth hormone DES in animal feed. But at the same time, the government opposed a proposed one-year moratorium on the drug as a "morning after" contraceptive for humans.

STEVENSVILLE GIRLS: Competing in the junior division at the 4-H Spring Demonstration were Rosanne Ster (left) and Nancy Waldenmaier, both of Stevensville. Rosanne was runner-up in arts and crafts. Nancy won in the clothing demonstration for members under 14 years.

Patty's Lover Was Hit Man, Says Con

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A convicted murderer known as "Death Row Jeff" claims he ordered the man fugitive newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst later mourned as her lover to assassinate Marcus Foster.

The testimony by Clifford Jefferson Wednesday threatened the prosecution's case in the trial of two Symbionese Liberation Army "soldiers" accused of shooting Foster, Oakland's superintendent of schools and a nationally known black educator.

Jefferson, who has spent nearly 30 of his 48 years behind bars, was called as a prosecution witness against Russell Little and Joseph Remiro.

Minutes later, with the jury absent, Jefferson said, "I'm the person who had Marcus Foster killed. I ordered Marcus Foster killed by two other guys. Russ Little had nothing to do with Marcus Foster being killed."

Jefferson, reported to be a founder of the SLA, said he gave the order to William Wolfe, one of six SLA members who died in a flaming house last May after a shootout with Los Angeles police.

In a taped message after her kidnapping and later conversion to the SLA, Miss Hearst said Wolfe, known as "Cuzo," had been her lover.

Jefferson said "another person outside" had been involved in Foster's death. He did not identify the person, but he said it was neither Little nor Remiro.

"I know these guys and what they're accused of," he told Little's public defender, James Jenner. "I know beyond a doubt they're innocent. If anybody should be sitting there, it should be me."

Jenner didn't press Jefferson to identify Wolfe's alleged cohort or ask why Foster had been killed.

Foster was slain from ambush on Nov. 6, 1973. His chief aide, Robert Blackburn, was wounded.

Little and Remiro were arrested two months later after a shootout with police in nearby Concord and were charged with the shootings.

The then-obscure SLA claimed responsibility for the killing. Little and Remiro claimed membership in the group but pleaded innocent.

Despite Jefferson's testimony, the prosecution will continue its case, said Alameda County Dist. Atty. Lowell Jensen. He declined to say whether he would seek murder charges against Jefferson.

Jefferson was first sent to prison in 1945 for auto theft. He was sentenced to death for assaulting a fellow inmate while serving a life term at Folsom Prison. But the sentence was commuted to life without parole by Gov. Goodwin Knight in 1958.

He was convicted of second-degree murder in the 1949 death of his brother-in-law, and in 1968 was convicted of killing another inmate.

Miss Hearst was kidnapped by the SLA Feb. 4, 1974. She later said she had joined her abductors. The daughter of Randolph A. Hearst, president and editor of the San Francisco Examiner, she is now wanted on a variety of charges which include kidnapping and bank robbery.

CLIFFORD JEFFERSON Says he ordered killing

TROOP USE, HUMANITARIAN FUNDS Congress Grants Ford Requests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Turning aside fears of new U.S. combat deaths, Congress early today voted to give President Ford authority to use American military forces if necessary to evacuate Vietnamese as well as Americans from South Vietnam.

Authority to use military forces was approved by the House in a $327-million aid bill approved 230 to 187 this morning and by the Senate in a $250-million aid bill approved 75 to 17 Wednesday.

House and Senate conferees are expected to begin work later today on a compromise.

President Ford had asked Congress to approve $250 million in humanitarian aid for South Vietnam, authorize the use of U.S. troops to evacuate Americans and Vietnamese and vote $722 million military aid.

By its actions, Congress approved the first two requests. But the chances of approving more military funds appear dim. Ford told reporters aboard Air Force One Wednesday night that he now was going to review the military aid request.

As Congress wound up its final debate on the bills, Ford was telling a cheering audience at Tulane University in New Orleans that the Vietnam war was over for the United States. The President said the time has come for a national reconciliation to heal the wounds and discords of the past decade and to build a better America for the future.

On both sides of the Capitol, opponents of the bills contended Congress was giving the President unlimited authority to use whatever U.S. forces he believes are needed at whatever risk.

"If we want a bloodbath in South Vietnam, the best way to do it is to send in U.S. troops to evacuate foreign nationals," Sen. Floyd K. Haskell, D-Colo., told the Senate.

In the House, Democratic Leader Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. of Massachusetts said his heart bleeds for any South Vietnamese threatened with reprisals but said he wants no more U.S. soldiers killed there.

But other congressmen, including vocal foes of America's involvement in the Vietnam war, said the United States has a moral obligation to try to get endangered South Vietnamese out.

"It is a crack in the door, I grant you that," said Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn. "But you've got to trust somebody. You can't run evacuation programs from the Congress."

Rep. Donald M. Fraser, D-Minn., said the lives of Vietnamese who sided with America are in danger and "we owe it to ourselves and to a sense of decency to permit efforts to get them out."

Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., said one State Department official told the House International Relations Committee that he doubted more than 15,000 South Vietnamese would get out. But Morgan said other estimates run to 170,000 and that "it's a numbers game."

The House passed its bill at 2:40 a.m. today after a marathon 14-hour session. The bill's $327 million includes $150 million new money for evacuation efforts and humanitarian aid for South Vietnam, plus authority to spend $177 million previously approved by Congress for humanitarian aid.

The Senate's $250-million bill includes a $100 million contingency fund for humanitarian aid and evacuation, and $150 million for humanitarian projects in Cambodia as well as South Vietnam.

The House bill would authorize a far larger U.S. military evacuation operation than the Senate's. The two bills also take different basic approaches to authorizing Ford to use U.S. forces.

The Senate bill simply states that the President is authorized to use U.S. forces for evacuation of Americans and endangered South Vietnamese and their dependents under a strong of restrictions.

—The Americans and South Vietnamese must be under "direct and imminent threat" of being killed and diplomatic efforts must be made first to win their evacuation without force.

—U.S. forces used to evacuate South Vietnamese would be limited to those there to evacuate Americans and their dependents; they could not go into new areas for the South Vietnamese and could not be exposed to hostilities longer in order to get the Vietnamese out.

The House bill authorized "minimum use of necessary force" and specifically sets aside five laws passed by Congress prohibiting introduction of U.S. forces into hostilities in Indochina.

UPON THIS ROCK

"And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal."

Matt. 25:46

Those who believe the Bible know there is a day of judgment coming. God made the world, for man to use and have dominion over. He also made us, to do his will and glorify him. We may disregard our duty now but someday God will call us all into account (Eccl. 12:13-14). The faithful will be blessed with eternal life. Others will be lost in the torments of hell.

God loves all people and gave his Son to die on the cross that all might be saved. Yet Jesus said only a few will be saved (Matt. 7:13-14). Why? Because only a few have enough love for God and enough faith to do as Jesus commands. Jesus is the Savior of those who obey him (Heb. 5:8-9), who love him enough to keep his words (John 14:15). Jesus loves you and died to save your soul. Will you love him and trust him and do as he commands? He told us the way to begin, in Mark 16:15-16. Read and see, believe and obey. Won't you? REALTORS GATHER: National Realtor Week this week was occasion of recent meeting in Niles, where poster proclaiming "The Realtor...A Voice for America's Property Owners," is examined with approval. From left: Richard Voss, Southwestern Michigan Board of Realtors' public rels VCER:

Frank Yurcus, board executive officer; John Neumann, board president; Richard V. Griesinger, deputy commissioner, State Department of Licensing and Regulation; Greg Morden, board second vice president; and Camden Miars, a board director. Dinner meeting was at Portofino's restaurant, Niles.

Realtors See 'Brighter' But Not A 'Banner' Year

John Neumann, president of the Southwestern Michigan Board of Realtors, views the mortgage market for home buyers with guarded optimism.

Neumann, a St. Joseph realtor, said more money is available for mortgage loans now than a year ago. He predicts that improvements in the mortgage market late last year will produce benefits for the housing industry, locally, during the balance of this year.

Neumann noted that mortgage interest rates generally are lower now. Record high interest rates were set last year.

Despite this optimism, Neumann says home buyers this year should not expect "easy access" loans, or a return to the relatively low-interest mortgage loans of past years.

Realtors nationwide this week are observing National Realtor Week.

Opinions offered by realtors during the week point to a general viewpoint—sales this year will be "brighter" than last, but it won't be a "banner" year, Neumann said.

Besides the mortgage market, Neumann said realtors are concerned over a trend to highly restricted land use policies. Neumann noted federal, state, and some local regulations leaning toward "no growth," instead of "carefully planned growth." He listed:

—Attempts by some communities to establish restrictive yearly quotas for population increase.

—Application by the Environmental Protection Agency of regulations that would limit the size and number of shopping centers.

—Attempts by the government to control community growth through restrictions on expansion of sewer lines and sewer treatment plants.

Neumann emphasized that realtors have always favored reasonable controls of land use. "Without proper zoning and planning laws, the effect on the residential sales market would be enormous," Neumann said.

Two Demand Hearings, Three Sentenced In Berrien Court

Two people demanded preliminary examinations and three were sentenced during a brief arraignment session Wednesday in Berrien Fifth District court.

Demanding examinations were:

LaVerne Pittman, 42, of 585 Clay, Benton Harbor, on a charge of larceny of cosmetics from Osco Drugs, Benton township, April 22. Bond of $10,000 wasn't met.

Kenton F. Chapman, 20, of South Bend, charged with receiving and concealing a stolen chain saw valued over $100 April 9 in Niles township. He was jailed in lieu of $1,000 bail.

Sentenced were: Claude W. Friske, 31, of Mishawaka, Ind., fine and costs of $125 or 30 days in jail for disorderly person, indecent conduct, April 23, in Benton township.

David S. Eubanks, 21, of 765 Becht, Coloma, 30 days in jail, $200 and two years probation for driving while intoxicated April 23 in Benton township.

Juan Murillo, 43, of Holland, $250 for impaired driving, second offense, March 23 in Benton township.

CIRCUIT COURT

Two Berrien Men Convicted By Jury

Two south county men have been convicted by a jury in Berrien circuit court of entering an unoccupied house without the owners permission, and one of the defendants was also found in contempt of court by Judge Chester J. Byrns.

Jurors deliberated 2 1/2 hours Tuesday before convicting

Donald R. Riggins, 20, of New Troy, and James A. Kemp, 20, of Buchanan. The conviction carries a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail, while the original charge on which they went to trial, entering without breaking, carried a two-year prison sentence.

Byrns held Riggins in contempt for being 40 minutes late to the trial, which was scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m. The judge indicated he would pass sentence for contempt at the same time he sentenced the pair.

The two were accused of entering a house on Lange road, Lake township, owned by Marvin Spitzer, and attempting to steal paneling Oct. 31. Opposing counsel during the one-day trial were Assistant Prosecutor Scott Beatty and St. Joseph Atty. David Peterson.

WEST MILFORD, N.J. (AP) — Though native to a sub-tropical climate, the 35 African lions at Jungle Habitat, a drive-through, animal park here, have adapted happily, and in their own special way, to the cool northern New Jersey winters.

According to Richard L. Needlerman, general manager of the 1,000-acre preserve, his lions spend a good deal of time together in the winter months inside their warm, comfortable shelters, where they have taken to mating.

Lift Spirits With New Hairdo

"To make the most of your hair, you have to understand it. Is your hair thick or thin, fine or coarse? Does it have a tendency to wave? The way you care for your hair depends very much on what type of hair it is."

Women used to go buy a new hat to raise their spirits, but with so many new hair products on the market and with curls enjoying a comeback, why cover your head up at all? This week, Family Weekly offers a special beauty guide to hair styles and care with tips that tell you how to make even fine, thin hair look terrific!

But more than just offering the latest hair fashion news, we suggest a variety of styles and coloring techniques that allow you to pick a brand-new look that suits your face, your personality and your frame of mind.

Read it Saturday in Family Weekly magazine, a regular feature of The Herald-Palladium.

Michigan's Senate Will Now Have Two Secretaries

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Majority Democrats have decided to hire a longtime party member as Senate secretary. They also want to keep the present secretary, apparently at his current $31,500 a year salary.

The Democrats said Wednesday the post of secretary will go to Billie Farnum, a former congressman and state auditor general.

Secretary Beryl Kenyon will be given the yet-to-be-created post of "associate secretary," probably at his current salary, said Senate Majority Leader William Fitzgerald, D-Detroit.

That means Farnum will get more, possibly around $35,000, Senate observers said.

The selection of Farnum, 59, by the Democrats assures his eventual approval. The nomination must pass through one and possibly two committees.

Kenyon, who has served since 1962 with the exception of one year, was a Republican appointee. Democrats took control of the chamber in January.

Farnum last fall produced a controversial report for Democratic gubernatorial candidate Sander Levin that said the state income tax would not have to be raised if voters repealed the sales tax on food and drugs.

Farnum claimed at that time the lost money could be made up by cutting government inefficiency and waste.

The Democratic-controlled legislature last month passed the bill to raise the state income tax to make up for revenue lost through the sales tax repeal.

Republican Gov. William Milliken signed the measure, which goes into effect May 1.

The Senate recently was criticized for putting several former colleagues, who lost in the last election, back on the state payroll as $100-per-day "consultants."

The Senate secretary does the upper chamber's bookkeeping and filing and is the final arbiter of parliamentary questions during Senate sessions.

The salaries of Farnum and Kenyon will be set officially later by the Senate, Fitzgerald said.

The majority leader justified the additional $35,000 — odd dollars on the public payroll by saying the Senate needed the same "back-up" capabilities as the House.

The House has had a twoman team in the clerk's office for years.

Fitzgerald said the two men would share administrative duties. Other lawmakers indicated the Senate would upgrade its internal system of handling bills and other matters.

Fitzgerald lauded Farnum as a man of "outstanding integrity and ability." Farnum will be given a few weeks to wrap up his affairs as president of a financial consulting firm, Fitzgerald said.

Credit Union Rate Hike
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Credit unions could increase interest rates on unpaid loans from 12 to 15 per cent annually under a bill sent to the governor. The measure, approved 66-37 in the House and given immediate effect, allows credit unions to raise their monthly interest rate from 1 per cent to 1 1/4 per cent. It would apply once the bill becomes law. Current loans would not be affected. "I have thousands of people in my area who are being carried by credit unions for months and months ... they're the only ones who can do this. This bill is needed by the people of this state who need loans and who need to be carried," House Speaker Bobby Crim said.

Racial Bias In Hiring Charged

By PETE YOST
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A black subordinate has filed a racial discrimination charge against state Insurance Commissioner Daniel Demlow.

The charge stems from the appointment last fall of Kenneth Tannenbaum to a $30,900-a-year regulatory post.

The complaint was filed in December with the Civil Service Department by Claude McCann, a $24,000 a year deputy director working for Demlow. McCann said his duties have been cut since Tannenbaum was appointed.

Demlow denies the charges and says Tannenbaum was the most qualified person for the job.

A state Civil Service Department probe, however, indicated that Demlow and the state Commerce Department may have manipulated the system to exclude potential competitors to Tannenbaum for the post, according to Ernest Wallick, a civil service official.

As a result of the investigation, the requirements for the job have been rewritten, Wallick said. The race discrimination charge goes before a civil service hearing officer sometime next month.

In his complaint, McCann said he should have been considered for the job because it covered his responsibilities. He claims Demlow should never have created Tannenbaum's post in the first place.

Tannenbaum's job involves regulating Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield and other medical insurers.

Demlow appointed Tannenbaum to the post last Sept. 12. The Civil Service Department received a request to create the post three weeks earlier from Demlow through the state Commerce Department, which includes the Insurance Bureau.

At that time, Demlow recommended only Tannenbaum for the job. Tannenbaum is a former official in the state Insurance Bureau in Pennsylvania, records show.

It was the civil service department's responsibility to advertise for other qualified applicants.

Based on information from the commerce department and a description of duties from Demlow, the civil service department required that the post be filled with a dentist.

Tannenbaum is a dentist. McCann is not.

In response to McCann's complaint, the Civil Service Department has eliminated the requirement that the job be filled by a dentist. But Tannenbaum remains in the post.

A memo written by John Hueni of the civil service department states that the public health dentist post "precluded other qualified candidates from being considered."

"Officials in the Department of Commerce were less than candid in pointing out the needs for the job," Wallick said. "They were giving the impression that there were not persons inside state service who could perform for the position."

McCann also has told civil service officials he was not even aware that Demlow planned to create the new position.

"The hiring of Ken Tannenbaum was a normal civil service transaction," said Demlow.

Demlow said the first time he ever heard of Tannenbaum was when Tannenbaum wrote him a letter sometime in the middle of last year asking for openings. In his reply Demlow said he indicated he might soon have one.

"We had an individual apply for that post and we submitted that person's name," said Demlow. "I didn't recommend anyone else. Tannenbaum is a tremendously capable individual."

Demlow said he wrote the description of duties for the job last May.

Asked whether he usually submits just one name to fill a civil service post, Demlow said, "It depends. It can be done in any number of ways. We had an applicant who we thought was qualified."

Did he advertise that he was creating the post?

"No," Demlow replied.

Jobless Benefits Increase

House Likely To Vote Today

By MARY SCHEIER
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The House was set today to pass a measure giving most of Michigan's 600,000 jobless workers $30 more each week in benefits.

Speaker Bobby Crim said he has the 36 votes needed to pass the "compromise" bill. He said it will contain far lower benefits than the hefty increases proposed by the House Labor Committee on Tuesday.

Crim added, however, that he was not sure he could muster the 72 votes needed to give the measure immediate effect.

Without that, the benefit increases wouldn't go into effect until next year.

In a statement issued late Wednesday, Gov. William Milliken said he had doubts about any bill to increase compensation. He called for "a delay of a few days" in action on the measure but stopped short of saying he would veto the increase.

"What would the cost be to those who must provide jobs for the future? What would it do to Michigan's ability to rebound from the current national recession? How would it affect Michigan's competitive position in the nation?" the governor asked.

"It could be a hoax on the workers of Michigan if the legislature acts to increase unemployment benefits in a manner that would mean even more unemployment," he said.

Crim, D-Davison, said the Labor Committee agreed to the compromise measure, which will be introduced as a substitute to the original committee recommendation.

"It's not near enough, but we had to have a balance between labor and business," he said.

Under the substitute measure, a worker with four dependents who earned $250 or more a week would get $136 a week, compared to $106 at present.

A single person with no dependents earning $200 or more a week before being laid off would get $97 instead of $87.

Under the bill originally reported out of committee, maximum benefits would have been $152 plus $5 for each dependent.

The substitute, which has the support of the Democratic caucus, would increase the basic unemployment benefit rate from 55 per cent to 60 per cent of the claimant's average weekly wage.

It raises the wage base on which employers compute their per-worker contribution to the unemployment compensation fund from $4200 to $6700. But the tax rate on the employer would not change, Crim said.

Crim said figures his staff is checking indicate the proposed substitute, had it been law in 1974, would have cost business an extra $132 million in contributions to the unemployment compensation fund. He said he had no figures on the cost business would face from the original bill with its higher benefits.

Doctors Link Alcohol, Sterility

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A panel of doctors studying alcoholism says it has found a definite relationship between alcoholism and male sterility.

Dr. Joshua Perper, chief forensic pathologist for the Allegheny County coroner's office, says severe testicle damage was found in men with a history of alcoholism and it could result from two causes.

He said damage to the liver could prevent the liver from neutralizing female hormones produced in the male, or the alcohol itself may be toxic to the testicles.

Whether there is also a direct causal link between liquor and consistent impotence remains undetermined, Perper said in an interview Wednesday.

"It is very hard to say whether the changes in the testes may be associated with impotence," said Perper. "Impotence may be psychologically related and requires the study of living individuals."

Perper said he and two other physicians discovered the highly damaged testes during a study of unexplained deaths among alcoholics.

"These were heavy drinkers who did not have severe liver disease," said a participating researcher, Dr. Lewis Kuller, an epidemiologist at the University of Pittsburgh.

"When they died, it was not of classical cirrhosis and it was not at home or under medical supervision. We are trying to find out why they die when the only observable damage is a fatty liver."

Perper said a fatty liver condition is considered reversible and not very serious.

During autopsies to determine the cause of death in these men, the researchers said they routinely examined the heart, pancreas, liver and testes. It was then that the atrophy in testes was found.

"People observed long ago that those with cirrhosis, and scarring of the liver, suffered damage to the testicles. The explanation was that the damaged liver could not break down the female hormones," Perper said.

"But we discovered a high incidence of testicle damage in those without a fatty liver. This suggests that alcohol itself may be damaging the testes."

Kuller said the alcoholism mortality rate, from both observable and unobservable conditions, has skyrocketed in the last two decades. He said it was "epidemic" among certain demographic groups.

The mortality rate for white men aged 25 to 44 has jumped from 10 per 100,000 in 1953 to 18 in 1970, almost double. For blacks in that same age group, the death rate per 100,000 jumped from 14 in 1959 to 70 in 1972.

But Kuller said the most significant jump in alcohol-related deaths was among blacks aged 45 to 54. It grew from 25 per 100,000 in 1955 to 127 per 100,000 in 1971.

Breast X-Rays May Be Harmful

WASHINGTON (AP) — Routine X-ray examinations for breast cancer in women under the age of 35 should be avoided because the screening procedure itself may cause tumors, a Food and Drug Administration advisory panel says.

The advisory committee also called for more studies on the safety and effectiveness of such X rays, called mammography, in women aged 35-50 years. The panel also urged physicians to determine whether female patients are pregnant before taking abdominal X rays.

The FDA's Bureau of Radiological Health has taken the recommendations under consideration. But Dr. William S. Cole, associate director for medical affairs, said the under-35 prohibition "makes good sense."

The rush by thousands of young women for breast X rays is "a mistake, growing out of hysteria," he said in an interview.

The advisory committee's recommendations were spurred by reports that some college health clinics are advising coeds to undergo routine mammography. More and more women are seeking breast cancer examinations since the wives of President Ford and Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller underwent surgical removal of cancerous breasts.

Cole said mammography is not very effective in young women because they have firmer breast tissue which may obscure X-ray detection of tumors. No one knows the risk of low-dose radiation, he added.

In addition, said Bureau Director John C. Villforth, the two X-ray films required for each breast and use of improper equipment and techniques are resulting in radiation overexposure for many women.

The advisory panel recommended that women under 35

DECLARES U.S. INVOLVEMENT OVER Ford Is Relieved, Sad At End

WASHINGTON (AP) — After having declared an end to U.S. involvement in the Vietnam war, President Ford seemed like a man relieved of a burden as he reminisced about the Vietnam era.

Ford said he had "mixed emotions" about it all. "That's not the way I wished it had ended but you have to be realistic," he told a group of reporters aboard Air Force One on the way back to Washington after a day-long trip to New Orleans.

When he earlier told a cheering crowd at Tulane University that the Vietnam war was over for the United States, did he have the sense that he was ending an era?

"I think so, yes," Ford replied. "After all, it's been a pretty long era."

The President recalled first going to Vietnam in August 1953 with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. Ford, then a congressman from Grand Rapids, Mich., said he had wanted to see at first hand what he had been reading about the French involvement there. He spent a week there then.

Wednesday night, "almost 22 years later," as he put it, Ford told his enthusiastic audience of Tulane students that the "war is finished — as far as America is concerned."

Aboard Air Force One, Ford was relaxed and obviously in a happy mood when he strolled with his pipe and a mixed drink to the back of the presidential jet. He said his reception at Tulane was probably the warmest he had received since becoming president, with the possible exception of his St. Patrick's Day speech at the University of Notre Dame.

He said he had been cautioned beforehand about what kind of reaction he might get at Tulane. Some Louisiana congressmen had told him "Tulane had been kind of a hot spot during the Vietnam war," Ford said. "They were a bit apprehensive."

But instead, the overflow crowd of 4,700 in Tulane Fieldhouse interrupted his 28-minute speech a dozen times with applause and gave him a standing ovation at the end.

A White House spokesman had described the speech as the first of the post-Vietnam era. In the speech, Ford called on Americans "to write a new agenda for the future."

He said he was saddened by the events in Indochina but added, "They do not portend the end of the world, nor the end of America's leadership in the world."

The students shouted their approval when Ford declared that "America can regain the sense of pride that existed before Vietnam." And the loudest applause came when he said, "It cannot be achieved by refighting a war that is finished — as far as America is concerned."

"The time has come to look forward to an agenda for the future, to unity, to binding up the nation's wounds and restoring it to health and optimistic self-confidence."

In an apparent reference to the collapse of Cambodia and South Vietnam, Ford said, "Some seem to feel that if we do not succeed in everything, everywhere, then we have succeeded in nothing, anywhere."

"I reject such polarized thinking. We can and should help others to help themselves. But the fate of responsible men and women everywhere in the final decision rests in their own hands."

The President said, "I ask tonight that we stop refighting the battles and recriminations of the past. I ask that we look now at what is right with America, at our possibilities and our potentialities for change, in growth, and achievement and sharing."

WELCOMING NOTES: President Gerald Ford displays a big smile as he mixes it up with the Olympia Brass Band welcoming him to the hotel in downtown New Orleans, La., Wednesday. Ford made day-long visit to the city including a visit to an offshore oil rig. (AP Wirephoto)

Flooded Rivers Recede

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — New rains splattered flood-stricken areas Wednesday, although the Grand and Red Cedar rivers continued to recede.

Many homeowners returned to inspect their drenched belongings, but few of those evacuated over the weekend were ready to come back permanently. Police allowed about 250 families who live in the Urbandale area in Lansing's east side, which still had water four feet deep in some places, to board small boats and inspect their homes.

"Some people got hysterical when they saw what happened to their houses," said Lansing Mayor Gerald Graves, who said damage in that city alone could climb above $35 million.

Elsewhere in Ingham County, damage was estimated at $16.7 million.

Less than a quarter of an inch of rain pelted the city Wednesday, but was not expected to pose a threat of more flooding, weather officials said.

"We could get a half an inch or an inch of rain, but since both rivers are going down, we could stand an inch without any serious trouble," said Robert Babb, meteorologist in charge of the National Weather Service in Lansing.

Today's forecast he said, was for "cooler, dryer air and we ought to have a little sunshine."

At least two people were killed and about 15,000 homes and businesses flooded when the two rivers swelled over their banks because of a rapid five-inch rainfall Friday night.

The Grand River, which normally crests at 5 to 6 feet this time of year, rose to 15.4 feet during the flood, Babb said. In a 1947 flood, the Grand crested at 16.9 feet.

The Red Cedar crested in East Lansing at 12 feet. It normally is about four feet deep this time of year, Babb said.

Father Of Boy Scout Files Suit

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — A Saginaw father has filed a $50,000 damage suit against the Lake Huron Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America claiming his son's feet were permanently injured during a camping trip. In the suit, filed in Saginaw County Circuit Court, Judge Martin claims his son, Rico, suffered extensive frostbite to his feet on a Feb. 1979 camping trip.

The suit contends the council failed to have qualified supervisors tell about proper clothing for the outing and to protect the boy's hands.

Tom Kabin, a Scout executive, said no comment on the suit.

Reds Mark Time As Minh Struggles For Top Post

SAIGON (AP) — President Tran Van Huong offered today to make Gen. Duong Van Minh premier but refused Minh's demand for the presidency, political sources reported.

Meanwhile, the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong were apparently marking time on the battlefields, awaiting the outcome of the political maneuvering in Saigon. The South Vietnamese military command reported only scattered, small-scale action although Western intelligence sources said Communist-led forces had been in position to overrun the crowded city since Monday. Minh, a retired general who led the 1963 coup that overthrew President Ngo Dinh Diem, sought the support of political, religious and military leaders in a series of meetings at his home. He refused to comment to newsmen on the impasse except to say, "Time is short."

Premier Nguyen Ba Can and his cabinet resigned late Wednesday after only 11 days in office to pave the way for a new political setup. Foes of former President Nguyen Van Thieu were urging his 71-year-old successor to step out also so that Minh could form a new lineup that the Communists might agree to negotiate with.

Political sources said Huong and Minh met for more than two hours, and the 71-year-old president offered Minh the premiership "with full powers." But they said Huong insisted on keeping the presidency he succeeded to on Monday night when Thieu resigned.

Minh, a 59-year-old 200-pounder, was a do-nothing figurehead chief of state for three months after Diem's overthrow and murder. Fellow officers ousted him in the first of a series of coups, and he spent nearly four years in exile. After his return, he maneuvered himself into the position of nominal leader of the loose grouping of neutralist, anti-Communist factions known as the "third force" but never pressed his opposition to Thieu vigorously enough to compel the president to retaliatory action.

Should Minh take over, his first action is expected to be a proposal for a cease-fire and negotiations to form the coalition government with the Communists envisioned by the 1973 Paris peace agreement. However, the Viet Cong, which rejected such a proposal by Huong on Wednesday, has given no indication if it would deal with Minh.

The U.S. airlift of Americans and Vietnamese out of Saigon continued without letup, and officials in Washington said 1,887 U.S. citizens were still in the city Wednesday night.

The transshipment point on the route to the United States was moved Wednesday from Clark Air Base in the Philippines to Andersen Air Base on Guam. By this morning, 3,437 evacuees had arrived on Guam, another 8,000 were still at Clark waiting to be moved to Guam, and U.S. Air Force C-141's and C-130's kept up their round-the-clock shuttle out of Saigon.

Military officials in Washington said Air Force planes took 7,041 Vietnamese out of Saigon between April 3 and Tuesday, and an estimated 18,000 are expected to arrive on Guam in the next 10 days if the Communist forces do not interfere.

The White House, the Pentagon and the U.S. Embassy in Saigon all denied a report in two Japanese newspapers that a U.S. Marine battalion had landed at Vung Tai, on the coast 40 miles southeast of Saigon, to protect the evacuation.

Prime Minister Kukrit Pramoj of Thailand announced in Bangkok that he had ordered the Thai ambassador to South Vietnam and his entire staff to leave Saigon as soon as possible. "We feel that the situation in Vietnam is getting worse," Kukrit said.

The South Vietnamese military command's morning communiqué reported shelling attacks on Trang Bang, 30 miles northwest of Saigon, and the Bien Hoa air base, 15 miles north of the capital; an ambush of a civilian bus convoy northwest of Saigon.

CLOSE CALL: Byron Johnson, 28, of Royal Oak, Mich., is interviewed after his boat capsized on St. Joseph river near Berrien Springs this morning and he swam safely to shore. Johnson told Berrien county marine division sheriff's deputy Bert Cooper, at right, he was fishing near Shamrock park about 7 a.m. when 12-foot craft suddenly sank as he attempted to place anchor. Johnson said a boat cushion he grabbed was, "only thing that saved me." Police were called when other fishermen nearby saw boat go down and feared Johnson had drowned. As police began search, Johnson walked back to campgrounds unharmed. (Staff photo)

GM Speeding Up Recall Of Workers

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors said today 20,000 workers will be called off indefinite layoffs by the end of the month, because of stepped up production at assembly and component plants.

The auto giant also said it will operate all 25 of its U.S. car and truck assembly plants for a sixth consecutive week on Monday.

GM further announced that it will resume second-shift operations on July 7 at Janesville, Wis., bringing 2,700 workers off indefinite layoff. The shift was removed Jan. 13.

The reductions in layoffs are greater than GM had indicated in the past.

A spokesman said indefinite layoffs by April 30 will affect 110,000 of the firm's 400,000 hourly workers. That compares with an estimated 130,000 on indefinite layoff this week.

GM previously predicted open-ended furloughs would fall to 125,000 by the end of April, but the figure was revised downwards due to worker recalls at component plants.

As previously announced, GM is recalling 3,600 assemblers next week, when it resumes second shifts at Willow Run, Mich., and Doraville, Ga., plants. The workers had been off the job since Jan. 13.

American Motors, which also is operating all its plants next week, has 720 of 24,000 workers on indefinite layoff.

Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. had not yet reported their production plans for next week. Industrywide, 205,000 of 712,000 auto workers are on layoff this week. The companies have reduced furloughs in recent months — from a peak of 300,000 in January — and increased production in anticipation of a spring upturn in sales.

New cars in mid-April, however, continued to sell at the slowest pace in 14 years.

Joan's Attorneys Try Again

WASHINGTON, N. C. (AP) — Defense attorneys for Joan Little continue arguments today on a second motion to quash the first degree murder indictment against her on the grounds that the prosecutor acted improperly before the grand jury. Arguments began Wednesday on that motion and two others related to it, after Superior Court Judge Henry McKinnon denied a motion to quash on grounds that the grand jury that indicted Miss Little was not representative of the community. Beaufort County medical examiner Dr. Harry Carpenter, who investigated Allgood's death, testified that he was not called to appear before the grand jury. The defense claimed that the grand jury was not informed of the contents of the medical report, including the information that Allgood was found naked from the waist down.

New Price Hikes Loom

WASHINGTON (AP) — After months of sagging farm prices, consumers began to see some price relief at food store counters last month, but Agriculture Department experts say another round of retail price increases is lurking around the corner. The retail cost of a market basket of farm-produced food in March dipped 49 on an annual basis, the first decline since last July, the Agriculture Department said Wednesday. But Larry V. Summers of the Department's Economic Research Service said cattle prices have risen in recent weeks and that retail beef prices are expected to follow suit. The effect could be that over-all food costs will resume their rise, he said.

Soviets Offer 'Guarantees'

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko has promised Israel the "strictest" guarantees of its continued existence provided it returns all the Arab territories it occupied in the 1967 Arab-Israeli war. Speaking Wednesday night at a dinner in Moscow honoring Syrian Foreign Minister Abdel Halim Khaddam, Gromyko said the Soviet Union is prepared to give Israel "the strictest guarantees" that would "ensure peaceful conditions for the existence and development of all states of the Middle East." He added that such guarantees would be given in "an appropriate agreement" that must also provide for Israeli withdrawal from all occupied territory.

Comic Says Job Easier

WASHINGTON (AP) — Comedian Mark Russell says the job of a political humorist is a lot easier with Richard M. Nixon out of the White House and the Vietnam war fading into history. "Last year there was tremendous polarization. This year, the anger is gone. We're all uniformly frustrated," Russell said in an interview.

Russell, a Washington institution who performs at a local hotel and appears frequently on television, is completing a political double-header tonight. He will provide the entertainment at the annual $500-a-plate Democratic fund-raising dinner for Senate and House candidates. Party officials hope to raise $900,000.

Vietnamese Wanting Out

SARIGON (AP) — About 1,500 anxious, well-dressed Vietnamese milled around in front of the U.S. Embassy today trying to get evacuated to the United States. They clutched at any foreigner, "Please can you help me," said a woman with three children, one of them fathered by an American. She unfolded a worn letter with brown dirt in the creases and said: "This paper say I live with my boy friend. He go America now. How can I go?"

The word that the Americans are evacuating Vietnamese has finally begun to spread around Saigon even though the local papers are playing the news down.

She Teaches About Dying

BELLINGHAM, Wash. (AP) — Carol Warren admits she once had a fear of dying. And that is why the eighth-grade teacher says she wanted to teach a subject called death education in her language arts class at the Carter Middle School here. Its aim is to come to grips with life's ultimate certainty. Now, after teaching almost death to her classes over the past two years, Mrs. Warren says she is no longer afraid of the end to life. "Our whole society is a very death-denying society, and it's not very prepared for death when it comes," she says. "Death is part of living."

Funeral director Jan Donnellan served as guide for Mrs. Warren's class during a recent tour of a funeral home in nearby Puyallup.

Flood Damage Tops $1 Million In Van Buren

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Van Buren county Sheriff Richard Stump has confirmed the $1 million flood damage estimates the Van Buren county board of commissioners heard from another source Tuesday.

Stump said damage from last weekend's flood has been set in "in excess of $1 million."

The damage figure will be inserted in a resolution adopted by the county board Tuesday. The board is asking that Van Buren county be designated a disaster area in order to qualify residents and businessmen who suffered flood damage for low-interest federal loans.

The county commissioners got their estimate through the county road commission, but withheld the figure pending its confirmation.

Stump is also director of the county's emergency preparedness office.

Damage to private homes and businesses was estimated at $584,000 and at $416,000 to public property, the sheriff said. Other damage, not yet reported, accounted for the "in excess of $1 million" figure.

He called the figures a "guesstimate," based on contacting each township, city and village as well as consultation with the federal Small Business administration.

Broken down, the damages to an estimated 378 homes were put at $520,000 and at $84,000 to 16 businesses.

Damages to county roads and structures were put at $350,000 and $66,000 for city and village property.

Stump asked that anyone knowing of damage not previously reported contact his office.

He also said that in event that disaster status is granted, people planning to apply for federal loans should be prepared to document damage to their property with photographs.

German Officials Held Hostage In Embassy Seige

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Five heavily armed terrorists took over the West German Embassy today and held the ambassador, the military attaché and several other persons hostage in a bid to free prisoners from West German jails, officials reported.

The prisoners were not named, but apparently they belong to the anarchist Baader-Meinhof gang.

First police reports said one person was killed when the terrorists opened fire with sub-machine guns and pistols in the office of Ambassador Dietrich Stoeker, but the police later said they had no knowledge of any casualties.

Officials said the terrorists, including three men and two women, threatened to kill Lt. Col. Andreas von Mirbach, the military attaché, if the building was not immediately evacuated.

They also threatened to blow up the building with TNT if rifle-toting police, wearing bullet-proof vests and helmets, tried to storm the four-story structure.

Officials said the drama started at noon when one of the terrorists entered the building asking for a passport. When told by a clerk to call on the consular section, four others, including two women, then charged through the entrance with drawn sub-machine guns and pistols.

A short while later, police reported shots were heard from the ambassador's office, while employees ran for their lives to take cover behind police vehicles, ambulances and fire trucks.

The ambassador's wife, Ingrid, told newsmen that when she heard the alarm raised she went into the embassy garden to see what was happening.

"I saw my husband at the window of his office," she said. "He waved to me to go back. I did so and rang the police. Apparently others also telephoned the police."

"I don't know whether there are other persons in the ambassador's office which is located at the top of the embassy building. I hope he locked himself in. It is impossible to see into the room. The shades are drawn and the awning also has been let down."

Foreign Ministry sources in Bonn, Germany, said a crisis staff was formed to help Swedish authorities deal with the siege in the Stockholm embassy, which normally has a staff of 47. It was not known exactly how many persons were being held in the building, which is near the British and U.S. embassies in the Swedish capital.

The group that took over the embassy identified itself as a cell of the West German anarchist Baader-Meinhof gang, whose leaders are awaiting trial in Stuttgart next month accused of various crimes including 1972 terrorist bombings that claimed the lives of four U.S. servicemen and injured more than 50 persons.

The five terrorists told the West German news agency DPA in a phone call that their cell was named after Holger Meins, a 35-year-old member of the Baader-Meinhof gang who died Nov. 9 after a hunger strike in a West German prison.

Two women who had been working in the kitchen of the embassy said the building was rocked by an explosion after the terrorists fired several volleys of sub-machine-gun fire.

Staffers of the British Embassy on the opposite side of the street said a man was seen signaling to police from a window on the fourth floor of the West German Embassy.

Other witnesses said a woman was seen in another window, which she tried to cover with a carpet.

Paw Paw River Is Clean, Cool

licies. Comparisons between the water of the St. Joseph and Paw Paw rivers, according to Dr. Snow, showed the St. Joseph had about 10 times more algae, and had a 10 times higher fecal coliform count than the Paw Paw, both measured at their mouths.

The Paw Paw was several degrees colder. Snow attributed this to the fact the Paw Paw watershed is a little farther north and there is more shade along the river. There was good evidence, he said, that the phosphates found in the St. Joseph originated from municipal sources, whereas phosphates in the Paw Paw occurred naturally from decaying leaves and other vegetation.

The Andrews biologist reported the Paw Paw has more extensive natural floodplain forests along its course which buffers the river from contaminants from the surrounding land, especially during the seasons of heavy rains.

Watervliet Man Pleads Innocent

Bronell Roskie Green, 38, Watervliet, pleaded innocent in Berrien Fifth District court Tuesday to a charge of being a disorderly person by window peeping.

Green of route 1, box 735, Orchard drive, Watervliet, demanded a jury trial and was released after posting a $1,000 bond, according to court officials.

He was arrested by Colonia township officers Monday night in connection with a complaint filed by a Colonia township couple on April 14.

Man Held In Factory Burglary

SOUTH HAVEN — Alvin Greer, 18, 313 Spencer street, South Haven, was to be arraigned in Van Buren Seventh District court here today on a charge of breaking and entering in connection with the reported burglary of a South Haven factory last night.

Greer was arrested by city police officers following a foot chase through the city's south-side industrial park.

Officers said the chase began while they were investigating an entry to the Blueberry Equipment company, 1375 Kalamazoo street, at 11:25 p.m., and saw a man running away from the scene.

Officers said entry to the factory was gained by breaking a front door window. The office had been ransacked, police said.

In another arrest, police reported they had arrested Roger Sparks, 18, 371 Broadway, in connection with last weekend's entry of Sherman's Flavor House, 487 Phoenix street.

An estimated $325 was reported taken by an intruder who apparently had a key to the establishment.

Police said Sparks, who was to be arraigned in Van Buren Seventh District court today, was a former employee of the store.

REGULATORY AGENCIES CRITICIZED

FTC Chairman
Is Pleasant
Surprise HereBy RALPH LUTZ
Staff Writer

Lewis A. Engman, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), called for the dumping of excessive government regulations in a talk last night that pleasantly surprised members of the Economic Club of Southwestern Michigan.

Engman, however, supported anti-trust suits, where needed, as "preventive maintenance for a free market economy." He likened the FTC to the "cop on the economic beat."

Many of the regulations criticized by Engman are imposed by "sister" federal agencies, such as the Interstate Commerce Commission and Federal Aeronautics Administration.

Engman maintained that excessive regulations helped to bankrupt railroads. He said government has made airlines "like knights in armor in bygone days, who couldn't walk, and had to be lifted onto their horses."

Federal energy and safety standards also were criticized as "political decisions that seldom ask how much the public will be charged to achieve a greater goal."

Engman, 39, and a former Grand Rapids attorney, is a Republican appointee, and he sounded at times like a possible future political candidate. He was asked about this during a press conference and responded:

"My FTC term runs until September, 1976. I take things as they come. While 1976 isn't too far off, conditions change rapidly, and I couldn't say what I might do then."

Expiring in 1976 is the term of Democratic U.S. Sen. Philip Hart.

During his talk to nearly 200 people at Ramada Inn, off M-139, Benton township, Engman digressed to the troubled economy. He said, with a touch of sarcasm:

"We've had double-digit inflation, near double-digit unemployment, and we have economists with double-digit IQ's, in Washington, telling us what to do about it."

Again on the economy, Engman likened the nation to a "luxury liner, dead in the water." He said the ship is not in danger of sinking, but "it's overloaded, and something has to be jettisoned."

Engman would jettison excessive regulations, but in fairness to government, he also viewed business as helping bring about the condition. "Demands (for government rules) by producing interests seeking relief from the stress of the competitive market place," were cited.

As to the FTC Engman said it should use anti-trust actions to help keep a competitive economy. Bigness of business, in itself, is not wrong, he said. He also said business is like a game that produces winners and losers.

The FTC is an independent agency, operated by a five-member commission. Each member is appointed by the president for a set term and can't be removed, except through death, resignation or impeachment in Congress. Its main thrust has been at misleading advertising claims, but it has entered unfair trade practices. Several anti-trust cases are pending, including American Telephone and Telegraph. Engman declined to comment on any case, saying they should be "tried in the courts, not the press."

Engman said the FTC has a staff of about 1,600, including more than 900 attorneys. He termed the staff "small, by Washington standards." The FTC operates on a budget of about $40 million. Engman said President Ford has recommended a 1975-76 budget of between $47 million and $48 million, but this will be resolved in Congress.

Engman went to Washington from Grand Rapids in 1970 as a legislative counsel for the President's Special Assistant for Consumer Affairs, a Nixon appointee. He later was assistant director of the White House domestic council. He was appointed to the FTC on Feb. 20, 1973.

LAWMEN INSTALL: First official act of Dave Agay (left), new president of the Southwest Michigan Association of Law Enforcement Officers, was to present gavel on a plaque to retiring president, Riley Holland of the Kalamazoo police department. Agay is a St. Joseph city patrolman. Installation was Wednesday at Wyndwike Country club, St. Joseph. Others installed were Ron Keim, Kalamazoo county sheriff, first vice president; Lee Currian, Western Michigan university police chief, second vice president; and Lt. Carl Hulander, commander of Benton Harbor state post, secretary-treasurer. The organization is composed of lawmen from six counties. (Staff photo)

Gasoline
Price Falls
Slightly

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — The pump price of regular gasoline in Michigan is an average 56.3 cents per gallon, down slightly from a week ago, the Automobile Club of Michigan reported today.

The motor club said regular gas prices are off 4 cents a gallon along major tourist routes. No-lead gasoline prices are an average 58 cents per gallon, the same as a week ago, AAA said.

Jacqueline Will Play In Watervliet Little League

WATERVLIET — It's "Play Ball" for Jacqueline Trail.

JACQUELINE TRAIL
Breaks barrier

The 12-year-old seventh grader Wednesday night was given the green light to play in the Watervliet Little League baseball program this summer when the Watervliet Recreation council opened the doors for participation by girls.

"How wonderful...wow...far out!" said Jacqueline's mother, Mrs. John (Delores) Trail, who had threatened legal action if her daughter was not permitted to play in the previously all-boys league.

The recreation council's action reversed an earlier ruling by the Watervliet Little League, which had unanimously denied Jacqueline's request to play in the league.

"The Watervliet Recreation council voted unanimously that the summer recreation program will be coeducational, subject to the rules established by the people who will operate the program," director Al Avery reported of Wednesday night's action taken during a meeting at North Elementary school.

He said the council's action was taken on its own and that it had heard nothing from the Trail family since previously published statements.

Mrs. Trail earlier this week said the family had contacted an attorney and expected to file a lawsuit if Jacqueline was not permitted to play.

Jacqueline, whom her brother said registered for the program "because she enjoys the challenge and competition of athletics," was a 1973 regional winner for her age group in the Punt, Pass & Kick football contest.

Hartford Parents
Threaten RecallBy DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

HARTFORD — A citizens' group here said it plans to mount a petition drive for an election to recall the seven members of the Hartford school board.

Mrs. Donald (Delores) Barnes, a member of a group calling itself Concerned Parents, said two sets of similar petitions will be circulated — one which asks that the school board meet the group's demands, and another calling for recall of board members on the grounds that they have failed to meet those demands.

Mrs. Barnes said she doubted if the board would meet the first petition, thereby making the recall petition the key petition of the two. If the board met the demands, the recall one might be withdrawn, she indicated.

The first petition asks that the board remove from use in the schools all books, pamphlets, and movies which contain "lewd, profane or indecent words, phrases, language or pictures." The petition also demands that parents be allowed to examine any of these materials upon request. The board is also asked to prohibit discussion of sex or the use of any materials relating to sex education in any class unless parents are previously notified sex will be discussed.

The actual recall petition charges that board members have failed to remove the objectionable materials, and have not granted parents the right to examine them on demand. It also alleges that the board has failed to prevent the teaching of sex education in classes not designed for that purpose.

Mrs. Barnes said Concerned Parents is not objecting to sex education per se, but rather the fact that discussions of sex appear in materials and classes not designed for teaching sex education. Parents should have the right to remove their children from sex education courses if they so desire, she added.

Another Concerned Parents member, Mrs. Robert (Judy) Muth, estimated the group would need 500 signatures to put the recall on the ballot.

Both women said they felt the board has failed to act on the groups objections to a number of materials, including two texts, "Encounter" and "Steps in Composition", and the films "Grooving" and "Future Shock."

Targets of the recall campaign are board members Bill Burnette, David Geisler, Lyall Brothly, Harold Leach, Leo Latus, William Dyer, and William Austin.

Latus and Austin are up for reelection in the annual school election June 9.

Mrs. Barnes said the group has decided to back David Heister and Ted Johnson as candidates in the election. Both are members of the citizens' group.

Grant For Paw Paw Lake

The Berrien county board of public works (BPW) yesterday learned a $349,600 supplemental grant from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency for construction of waste water treatment facilities is for the Paw Paw Lake sewage treatment system.

Congressman Edward Hutchinson's office had announced the EPA's award of the grant to the BPW early this week. A story of the grant was carried in the Herald-Palladium on Monday, but it could not be determined then to which project it applied.

BPW Director Robert Barnes told the board the money is a partial grant payment associated with the construction of the sewage treatment system which serves the cities and townships of Coloma and Watervliet. The $5 million system has been in operation for about a year and a half, Barnes said, but the federal government does not pay off grants until a project is completed.

He noted the $349,600 is only partial payment because the state department of natural resources and the EPA have not yet "finaled-out" the project, and he said more federal funds are expected.

Barnes added that the money is not "extra" since various construction costs have been paid from bonds and other construction grants in anticipation of this grant. Essentially the process is one of "taking money from one pocket and putting it in the other," Barnes explained.

Public Hearings Planned

Public reviews of proposals to establish or add facilities for two hospitals and four nursing homes in southwestern Michigan will be conducted on April 29 and May 2.

The health facilities committee of the Southwest Michigan Comprehensive Health Planning association (SMCHPA) announced the hearing dates. All the proposals are subject to local review because they will either cost in excess of $100,000 or add a service not currently being provided, according to John Ross, association executive director.

Three proposals will be considered at the first hearing, set for 2 p.m. Tuesday, April 29 in the Mercy hospital lecture room. The proposals are: 1. Modernization and renovation at Unity hospital, Buchanan, $170,000; 2. Addition of 30 skilled care beds and 27 ambulatory care beds at Hope nursing home, Lawton, $535,000; 3. Addition of 45 basic care beds at Schato nursing home, Dowagiac, $495,000.

Projects to be reviewed at the second meeting at Mercy hospital, scheduled at 2 p.m. Friday, May 2, are: 1. New facility to contain 60 skilled care beds for Bethany Oak Village, Bridgman, $720,000; 2. Addition of 42 basic care beds, Jordan nursing home, Bridgman, $392,000; 3. Start nuclear medicine department, Pawating hospital, Niles, $75,000.

Top Graduates
At New Buffalo

NEW BUFFALO — Roger Lauricella has been named valedictorian and Kathleen Wold has been named salutatorian of the 1975 New Buffalo high school graduating class, according to Ronald Morrison, high school principal.

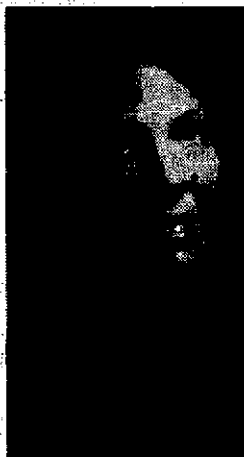

Lauricella is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Lauricella, 132 Marshall street, New Buffalo. He has been a member of the National Honor society for three years, serving as president this year.

He was active in the high school football program in his freshman and sophomore year and has been active in the Ski club. He is employed at Hildebrand's station in New Buffalo.

In the fall, Roger plans to attend either the Naval academy at Annapolis or the University of Michigan on a Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps scholarship.

Miss Wold is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wold, 17299 Riviera road, New Buffalo. She has been a member of the high school band since eighth grade, participating in solo and ensemble and all-star band this year, and is a member of the Ski club and girls' track team.

Catching Trout 'Incidental' In Opening Day Ritual

From Associated Press
Saturday is Opening Day. Some no doubt will ask: "Opening Day of what?" Ignore them. As all trout fishermen know, it's Opening Day of the regular trout season. Whether anyone will catch trout is something else. It really won't matter too much. Opening Day is the real start of spring, the beginning of a new year. Fish camps will be reopened, old friends will meet again, and rivers which languished in solitude all winter will once again be filled with hordes of booted feet. Some fishermen will catch cold or be bitten by snakes and have to treat themselves with poultices made of sour mash, peat smoke, oil of juniper, essence of malt or something similar. Some will not catch cold. They will merely drink in the budding of early spring, the song of birds, the soft touch of spring air, the welcome burble of the river and other of nature's beauties. Then, overcome by grandeur, they will go back to the cabin and drink in sour mash, peat smoke, oil of juniper, essence of malt or something similar. However, some of these fishermen will be interested sincerely in catching fish. For one thing, it will help calm their wives. Fishermen who come home from two or three days of fishing empty-handed are aware of the problem. "Where are the fish?" wives will ask. "What did you do all weekend?" It does no good to explain that Opening Weekend fishing is chancy at best. She wanted you to paint the shutters and clean out the basement that weekend and isn't about to believe any stories about the beauties of nature. So, if you want a limit of trout, take along a thermometer. If the thermometer shows 45 degrees or less, go deep and slow with bait and hardware. If it registers 45 to 55 degrees, use streamers and weighted nymphs. From 55 degrees up, try nymphs and wet flies fished shallow or right under the surface film. If the flies are hatching and trout are rising, use dry flies.

If the stream temperature is less than 32 degrees, go home. That means it's ice, not water. A trout's activity is based on water temperature. If it's cold, they are sluggish. As the water warms, trout feed better. Warming water also creates activity among the insects that make up much of a trout's diet. So, remember to take the stream's temperature several times a day. It will change all day long. Early in the morning when the water is cold, fish slowly and easily. Those fish won't want to do much dashing about chasing bait or lures. As the water warms, fishing ordinarily picks up. Some other suggestions: —When using bait, use fine wire hooks and as little weight as possible. —Night fishing may be great during the summer but Opening Weekend the best thing to do at night is have a good supper and talk over old times with your fishing buddies. —Be sure to dress warmly. Mother Nature sometimes picks upon fishermen. It has been known to rain, hail, sleet or snow on Opening Day. Bitter cold generally discourages both the trout fishermen and the trout. —Wear enough clothing so you are too warm while standing on the bank. Good longjohns are a must. Having a little smash before going fishing is a fine tradition. But having one too many could result in a fall in icy water. In early spring, with swollen rivers, a fall could be more than an inconvenience.

Cool Bulls Win Deodorant War Take Playoff Series, 101-89

From Associated Press
Some Kansas City fans tried in a not-so-subtle way to tell the Chicago Bulls: "You stink." But Chicago Coach Dick Motta couldn't disagree more. He's a picture of cool confidence. Amidst a hail of spray deodorant cans — which had been passed out free to fans outside the arena — and other debris, the Bulls built an 81-69 lead and went on to a 101-89 victory, eliminating the Kings 4-2 in their National Basketball Association Western Conference semifinal series.

the way. This was our toughest series."

With 8:30 left in the game and the Bulls leading by 12 points, frustrated fans began the barrage. The game was delayed five minutes when the Bulls, en masse, launched a counter-attack and stormed after a heckler but were restrained before reaching him. Kings Coach Phil Johnson could only look ahead to next year. "Next year ... next year ... I told my players," Johnson said. "They may think last year's training camp was hard, but wait until this one coming up."

Bob Love led the Bulls with 26 points, and Nate "Tiny" Archibald had 26 for the Kings. In the other NBA playoff game, Buffalo beat Washington 102-96 to even that Eastern Conference best-of-seven semifinal at three games apiece. The deciding game of the series will be played Friday night at Landover, Md.

Cub Hitting Rips Phillies

CHICAGO (AP) — George Mitterwald and Rick Monday hit solo homers and Bill Madlock drove in three runs, two on a double in a four-run fourth inning, enabling the Chicago Cubs to snap a three-game losing streak Wednesday with a 9-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Ray Burris, 2-0, allowed only one run until Willie Montanez' two-run homer in the seventh. He was replaced by Oscar Zamora in the eighth. A 15-mile-per-hour wind aided Mitterwald's one-out home run in the fourth and Monday's leadoff homer in the fifth. After the Cubs filled the bases and chased starting pitcher Tom Underwood in the fourth, Madlock greeted Cy Acosta with his two-run double to give Chicago a 5-1 lead.

The Phils scored in the first on Larry Bowa's scratch single, a walk and Greg Luzinski's RBI single. Montanez' homer followed Dave Cash's single in the Phil's single. The Cubs scored three more in the eighth. Steve Swisher led off with a double and was sacrificed to third. Don Kessinger was walked intentionally, then Swisher scored on Jose Cardenal's single. Madlock's single drove home Kessinger and Cardenal, who had stolen second.

NO JOY IN MUDVILLE: Detroit Tigers pitcher Joe Colman and catcher Bill Freehan watch glumly as grounds crew pour sand on mound in effort to dry up mud created by steady rain during Wednesday's game against Cleveland. Cleveland 'Douses' Tigers, 4-3 Joe Coleman Suffers Third Consecutive Setback DETROIT (AP) — There's no truth to the rumor that the sun went to Florida for spring training and forgot to return. It just seems that way for Jim Perry and Joe Coleman. Neither has had a decent day to pitch since the baseball season opened.

Perry was finally rewarded for his rain-soaked efforts Wednesday, while Coleman got doused for the third straight time as the Cleveland Indians defeated the Detroit Tigers 4-3. George Hendrick and Jack Brohamer each drove in two runs for the Indians, who survived a Tiger rally in the sixth when Gary Sutherland and Bill Freehan clouted home runs.

The game was delayed an hour and five minutes after the sixth inning because of a continuous rain which inundated the field. Fortunately, the Tigers don't have to play on it today. They're off until Friday night when they begin a three-game home series against Boston.

Cleveland is off, too. The Indians open a three-game set Friday night in Baltimore. Coleman — who was supposed to be Detroit's ace this season — has given up 15 earned runs in 14-1/3 innings in his three starts.

His problem? "I think it's the wet mounds."

Robinson Sticking To Managing Duties

DETROIT (AP) — Frank Robinson, playing manager of the Cleveland Indians, is doing more managing and less playing in the early stages of the baseball season.

It's not that he finds it more difficult to manage while he's in the lineup. He says it's just that "I just haven't been swinging the bat very well."

Robinson has played in only three of the Indians' nine games, all as a designated hitter. His only hit in nine at bats was a solo homer in the season opener. He also played in the second and sixth games.

"You can only put nine guys in the lineup," he said Wednesday.

Niles, Watervliet Host Weekend Events

Annual Track Parade Starting

It's track carnival time again! The annual parade of big high school track and field meets begins in earnest for southwestern Michigan teams this weekend with the Niles Invitational on Friday night and the Watervliet Lions Relays on Saturday.

Other major prep meets in the weeks ahead include the Blossomtime Relays at Berrien Springs on May 2, the St. Joseph Invitational on May 9, regional meets for both boys and girls May 16-17 and the Twin City Rotary Meet May 27.

Conference meets include the Southwestern Athletic Conference on May 12, the Allegan-Ottawa on May 13, the Big Six, Red Arrow, Blossomtime and Wolverine on May 21, the Lake Michigan Athletic Conference on May 23 and the Kalamazoo Valley Association on May 28.

State finals for both boys and girls will be held May 31 in all four classes.

Southwestern Michigan College will host two big junior college meets — the annual Roadrunner Relays May 2-3 and the Michigan Community College Athletic Association state championships May 16-17 — on its classy new all-weather track.

Both this week's meets involve a change of time. The Niles Invitational has been switched from Saturday afternoon to Friday evening at the request of many of the teams involved while the Watervliet Lions Relays have been moved from Wednesday evening to Saturday afternoon for two reasons — the suspension of the Albion Invitational and the proximity of the Blossomtime Relays, which attracts many of the same teams.

The Niles meet is a Class A affair involving 13 teams, including Benton Harbor, St.

Joseph and the host Vikings plus Kalamazoo Central, Loy Norrix, Holland and East Kentwood. Rounding out the field are six Indiana teams — Mishawaka, Culver and the South Bend quartet of Clay, LaSalle, Adams and Washington.

Field events start at 4:00 p.m. while running events begin with the four-mile relay at 6:30 and conclude with the mile relay at 9:10.

Watervliet's fourth annual Lions Relays will involve a majority of the area's Class C and D schools and will start with field event relays at 1:00 p.m. Saturday and the four-mile relay at 1:30. The final event — the 440-yard relay — is scheduled for 4:30.

A total of 15 teams have entered the meet, including Berrien Springs, Eau Claire, Lake Michigan Catholic, Hartford, Galien, New Buffalo, Bridgman, Marcellus, Decatur, Edwardsburg, Centerville, Lawton, Covert, Bangor and the host Panthers.

Southwestern Michigan teams took a beating in the only three dual meets that survived Wednesday's rain, with Niles bowing to Loy Norrix, Buchanan falling to Three Rivers and Michigan Lutheran losing to Saugatuck.

Dave Gutschenritter of Niles posted the area's second best time of the season while winning the half mile in 2:03.1 and teammate Carl Van Dyck moved up to third place on the honor roll with a high jump of 6-4, but they were the Vikings' only victories in an 87½-30½ setback.

Buchanan got double victories from Rich Humphrey in the high jump and 880 and Bob Luke in the sprints but, till lost to glhree Rivers 81-42 while Michigan Lutheran won only the 440 relay while absorbing a 99-22 beating by Saugatuck.

Catfish Jolted Again

In Wild Bosox Win

Slow-Starter Hunter Blows Lead

From Associated Press)

Jim Hunter has been like a Catfish out of water since his arrival in New York. But his former Oakland baseball teammates believe he'll stop floundering soon.

"He'll be all right," says Ray Fosse. "He's always been a slow starter."

"Unless he dies, Catfish Hunter will win 18 to 20 games this year," says Reggie Jackson. "All he'll have to do to get that many is get out of bed every morning. He's a superstar."

The object of their affection currently is 0-3 as a Yankee and Wednesday the Cy Young winner was knocked out for the fourth straight time this season during the Boston Red Sox' wild 11-7 victory at Fenway Park.

That's not the type of pitching the Yankees expect from their multi-million dollar investment. And it's not the type of pitching the Catfish himself expects.

"I'm still not making the right pitches at the right time," said the proud Hunter, who won 38 games in the last four seasons for the A's before escaping from Charlie Finley's gang through a contract loophole. "My breaking pitches, the slider and the curve, still are up too high."

And what does New York Manager Bill Virdon have to say about all this? The same thing that the A's are saying: Stay cool.

"Hunter just hasn't been making good pitches," says Virdon. "He's still hanging a lot of breaking balls. However, he's working hard and he'll be all right."

ceel Cooper ignited a five-run uprising against Hunter. Sparky Lyle and Dick Tidrow with a pinch triple in the seventh inning to lead the Boston success. Lyle took the loss after Tidrow, the third New York pitcher, surrendered a two-run double to Bob Montgomery, capping the decisive rally.

Hunter was unable to hold a 7-3 lead built with the help of two homers by Roy White.

White, batting left-handed against Boston starter Reggie Cleveland, hit a two-run homer down the right field line in the third inning. Then, batting right-handed against southpaw Rogelio Moret, he hit another homer into the left field screen in the sixth.

In the other American League games, the Cleveland Indians beat the Detroit Tigers 4-3; the Milwaukee Brewers turned back the Baltimore Orioles 8-5; the California Angels tripped the Texas Rangers 4-1 and the Oakland A's nudged the Kansas City Royals 3-2. Rain washed out the Chicago-Minnesota game.

Doubles by Bobby Mitchell and Sixto Lezcano broke an eighth-inning tie and Milwaukee went on to beat error-prone Baltimore.

Mitchell was the Brewers' designated hitter, replacing Hank Aaron who was benched at his own request because "I haven't been hitting." Aaron said he was disturbed by his .114 batting average.

Bill Singer checked Texas on six hits while Tommy Harper laced three straight hits and drove in the winning run as California beat the Rangers. Singer, 2-1, outdueled former Angel Clyde Wright, 0-1, who was hurt by errors. Two of the California runs were unearned.

because of miscues by left-fielder Joe Lovitto and Wright himself.

Singer struck out five as the Angels snapped a two-game losing streak. The tall right-hander was seldom in trouble after yielding a first-inning home run to Mike Hargrove.

Bert Campaneris drove home the winning run and both Rollie Fingers and Jim Todd stopped Kansas City uprisings to preserve Vida Blue's fourth victory for Oakland.

The A's nicked Steve Busby for runs in the first, sixth and seventh innings. In the first, Campaneris, Reggie Jackson and Billy Williams singled. In the sixth, Bill North singled, stole second, went to third when the throw got away from shortstop Fred Patek and scored on a passed ball.

The A's put together the winning rally in the seventh when Claudell Washington singled, Gene Tenace and Bill North walked and Campaneris hit an RBI grounder.

Nicklaus, Miller

TC Co-Favorites

CARLSBAD, Calif. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus and Johnny Miller are listed as the co-favorites, but Tom Weiskopf may be the man to beat in the $200,000 Tournament of Champions.

"I'm playing as good, or better, than I did in '73," the relaxed, confident Weiskopf said before teeing off today in the first round of this tournament that brings together only the winners of regular pro golf tour events from the last 12 months.

He has finished second, first and second in his last three starts and appears to have regained the form and flair that brought him the British Open crown and six other titles in 1973.

Still, Weiskopf is listed as the third choice behind Nicklaus and Miller in the elite, 30-man field that will chase the $40,000 first prize.

"Obviously, Jack and Johnny are playing very well," Weiskopf noted, "but there's no reason I couldn't win."

"I'm not saying I will win this week. No one can really say that and mean it. But playing as well as I am right now, it's just a matter of time until I do win."

He finished second to Nicklaus in the Heritage Classic, scored a front-running triumph in the Greater Greensboro Open and tied with Miller, one stroke behind Nicklaus, in the high drama of the Masters.

Nicklaus has won his last three starts, climaxed by his fifth Masters crown. He appears to be playing as well as ever. But, with his sights now set on the U.S. Open in June, he may suffer a mild letdown.

Miller, on the other hand, could have something to prove. He has yet to beat Nicklaus this year. He tied him for sixth in the Bing Crosby at Nicklaus has finished ahead of Miller in every other tournament in which both played.

Miller, the defending titleholder here, needs to finish ahead of Nicklaus to retain his money-winning lead, a position he has held since January, 1974. Nicklaus now trails him by only $24.

While the Miller-Nicklaus-Weiskopf trio have claimed most of the attention, the field also includes such standouts as PGA champion Lee Trevino, British Open king Gary Player of South Africa and U.S. Open titleholder Hale Irwin.

MONTREAL, (AP) — Dave Elliott, a 22-year-old defensive halfback from the University of Michigan, has signed a contract to play with the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League in 1975, the team announced Wednesday.

which should bring the winner more than $500,000, will be shown live on national television. (AP Wirephoto)

Court Edge To Newcombe

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Australian John Newcombe won the first skirmish with Jimmy Connors and said today, "We can now forget about that argument and get on with the primary objective, which is to see who is the better tennis player."

A flip of a coin decided the controversy over which artificial surface would be used for Saturday's nationally televised $500,000 head-on battle.

The coin came up heads so Caesar's Palace will use the surface it already has on the floor of the indoor arena and the one on which Newcombe has been practicing.

Connors was noncommittal about the result of the coin flip but had said he could play on any surface.

Asked about the style contrast between his game and that of the left-handed American, Newcombe declared, "It hasn't hurt me so far. The last time I played him was Jan. 1 in the Australian Open so he can't have changed much."

Ranked No. 1 in the world, Connors nevertheless has lost the three matches he's played against the Aussie, but two of those were on grass and only one on an indoor surface.

The 30-year-old Newcombe goes all out in his practice sessions against southpaw Australians Tony Roche and Owen Davidson.

Both players practiced after the court controversy was settled in Newcombe's favor. If it had been settled the other way, a newer and somewhat slower surface would have been substituted. It could have been to the American's favor since the Aussie features a speedy, powerful serve.

'Kid' Pitchers Toss Gems

Konieczny, Falcone Key Astro-Giant Split

From Associated Press

It was nice to see the kid get his first major league baseball victory. It was also nice to see the kid get his first major league shutout.

Maybe it was even nicer that they weren't the same kid. That way, everybody had something to smile about.

Doug Konieczny, after suffering through five losses in the majors, three last year and two this time around, finally got around to the win column Wednesday night when Houston beat San Francisco 3-2 in the first game of a twinning double-header. Roger Metzger and Ken Boswell gave him the runs he needed and Ken Forsch gave him some much-needed relief.

In the nightcap, it was Giants' rookie Pete Falcone who wore the grin after he wore down the Astros 3-0 with a five-hitter for his inaugural shutout in the majors.

"I felt good," Konieczny understated. "I don't know if I was throwing as hard as in past games, but I had good command. I was throwing the ball where I wanted it."

Metzger got behind him with two RBI on a squeeze bunt and a sacrifice fly while Boswell tripled in the other run.

Chris Speier's double and Bruce Miller's single gave Falcone the only run he needed — but the Giants got two more anyway on Falcone's single, a sacrifice, a stolen base and catcher Skip Jutz's throwing error and on Gary Thomasson's homer.

"I never thought I'd pitch my first shutout this year," Falcone said. "It helped my confidence. Maybe I can pitch another one."

In the rest of the National League it was Chicago's 9, Philadelphia's 3; New York's 7, St. Louis's 1; Montreal's 5, Pittsburgh's 0; San Diego's 7, Los Angeles's 1; and Atlanta's 5, Cincinnati's 4 in 11 innings.

"Things are going so good I hate to have a day off. When you're going this good, you want to play," Manager Yogi Berra said after his Mets parlayed Tim Lincecum's four-hitter and Rusty Staub's grand-slam homer off Bob Gibson into their fourth straight victory.

"There are two ways to do it — give them nothing or get something," Montreal Manager Gene Mauch said after his Expos beat Pittsburgh. "If you don't give them anything, you don't need much."

Woody Fryman has what it took to shut out his former Pirates teammates for the second time this season. He scattered seven hits, struck out nine batters and contributed a runcoring single in a four-run second inning.

Mike Ivie, Randy Hundley and Bobby Tolan drove in two runs apiece for San Diego to end a personal 15-game winning streak by the Dodgers' Don Sutton and enable Joe McIntosh to record his first major-league complete game with a five-hitter.

The Padres, winning for the seventh time in the last nine games, raked Sutton for two runs in the second inning and one in the fourth, then chased him in the fifth when Ivie singled for two runs and Hundley doubled for two more.

Mike Lum drew a one-out walk from Don Gullett in the 11th inning and, with two away, Larvell Blanks doubled him home to push the Braves past Cincinnati.

"I was expecting Clarence Gaston to hit for me," Blanks admitted. "I took a couple of steps back toward the dugout but they just motioned for me to get up there and hit. I figured I better go ahead and do something."

Local Athletes Earn Trophies In Karate Meet

Representatives of Al's Karate Academy in Benton Harbor won 10 trophies, including three for first places, at a Tae-Kwon Do karate invitational in Niles last weekend.

First place winners were Dexter Jones in the black belt pee wee division, Albert Caldwell in the green belt lightweight class and George Satterfield in the brown belt junior competition.

Emiliano Quinones took two trophies in the brown belt executive class, one for form and another for fighting.

Other second place trophy winners included David Sanders in the brown belt heavyweight division, Jim Caldwell in the white belt heavyweight class, Joey Haire in the yellow belt pee wee competition and Bobby Swift in the blue belt pee wee division.

Adding a third was Lester Smith in the black belt lightweight class.

NCAA Patches Up Latest AAU Hassle

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Now that it has disposed of its latest squabble with the Amateur Athletic Union, the National Collegiate Athletic Association can tackle an even more pressing problem — money.

Economics formed the sole agenda item for the special NCAA meeting which convened today. Before that, the collegiate body gave the green light to its track and field athletes accompanying the AAU-sponsored team on next month's China tour.

The two ruling bodies had clashed over an NCAA by-law prohibiting competition on outside teams for its athletes.

That hassle brought AAU officials, led by President Joseph Sculzo, here to confer with the NCAA council. The solution was simple enough. It involved certification of the AAU tour as "a national team." That permitted waiver of the by-law and solved the latest NCAA-AAU crisis.

John Fuzak of Michigan State University, president of the NCAA, hopes it may signal the start of better relations with the AAU.

"We appreciate the AAU officials coming here to meet with us," said Fuzak. "It was a positive kind of thing and we intend to take positive steps to try and resolve our differences and work on improving communications."

Fuzak said there may be up to a dozen athletes affected by Wednesday's decision, which now clears the way for collegians to go in the AAU tour and still compete in the NCAA championships when they return from China.

But Fuzak warned that NCAA approval did not remove all the problems. "As far as NCAA rules are concerned, college athletes may compete," he said. "But there are still conference rules and the rules of individual institutions to consider. This decision does not resolve those rules."

The consequences of the nation's dollar crunch is what begins concerning delegates today.

Stanley Marshall of South Dakota State University, secretary-treasurer of the NCAA, said he expected the conference to produce positive steps in increasing revenues and cutting costs for athletic programs.

"The time is right," said Marshall. "I will be bitterly disappointed if we don't come up with specific recommendations."

Tiger Tracks

DETROIT (AP) — Tom Walker may have lost himself a starting pitching job because he's doing so well as a reliever for the Detroit Tigers.

Walker gave up one hit, a double, but retired the other nine batters he faced in Wednesday's 4-3 Tiger loss to Cleveland.

He was similarly impressive in his previous relief job.

"He's my spot starter, but he's so valuable I'm changing my ideas," said Detroit Manager Ralph Houk. "If he can pitch like that he's more valuable in the bullpen. He can win more games for us that way."

Walker started a game in New York last week and lost to Doc Medich's two-hitter but looked good. He has given up one earned run in three games, working 9-2/3 innings.

"With a guy like him here I can maneuver a lot better," Houk said. "I don't have to bring John Hiller in for three innings. I can bring Walker in and save Hiller for the end."

"The way Tom's pitching it'll make an awful big difference for us."

Colbert was 0-for-4 Wednesday, hitting into two double plays in the process. He also hit into two in an 0-for-4 game the day before.

His average has dipped to .111.

"He's been timing the ball real good, but he's just been under 'em," Houk said. "He's going to be the kind of guy who, when he gets in hot streaks, will win games single-handedly."

"When you have so many off days you just don't get the feel of things. Power hitters are that way."

Mickey Lolich, 2-0, will pitch the opener of Detroit's series with Boston which begins Friday night at Tiger Stadium. He is scheduled to face Luis Tiant, 2-1.

Saturday Vern Ruhle, 1-1, is the Detroit probable against Bill Lee, 1-2; while Lerrin LaGrew, 2-0, is likely to start Sunday's game against Rick Wise, 1-1.

Coach Acts Like Loser After Kentucky Victory

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Hubie Brown sounded like a coach whose team was trailing instead of leading in the American Basketball Association Eastern Division final playoffs.

After his Kentucky Colonels put away the Spirits of St. Louis 108-103 Wednesday night, Brown pointed out, "We were getting beaten on the second shots and the fast breaks."

"And if it hadn't been for Ted McClain," he continued, "the outcome might have been different. He made a lot of things happen."

McClain, playing with four stitches in his left arm, connected for 24 points in holding off the Spirits, who now trail 2-0 in the best-of-seven series.

In the Western Conference final playoffs, Denver is at Indiana tonight for Game 3 with the best-of-seven series tied 1-1.

Although Marvin Barnes of St. Louis penetrated the Colonels' defense for 43 points, Brown didn't seem upset.

"If a guy takes 38 shots at the basket, there's no way you're gonna hold him under 30 points if he's any kind of a basketball player," Brown said. "That doesn't bother us that he scored 43 points."

For Barnes, the Rookie of the Year in the ABA, it was his best performance since the night he hit 41 against New York in the playoff series against the Nets.

His output, plus 18 points contributed by Maurice Lucas and 26 from Freddie Lewis made up St. Louis' scoring punch.

"I don't care if we have balanced scoring or not," said Spirits' Coach Bob MacKinnon. "I don't care how we get the points, as long as we get more than the other team."

Artis Gilmore topped the Colonels with 23 points and Louie Dampier added 17.

Quick Goals Down Gears In Cup Tilt

"We'd better be getting back or we'll miss the movies at Trevino on getting out of sand traps."

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Saginaw couldn't control Toledo in Wednesday's opening International Hockey League Turner Cup playoff game, but the Gears vow things will be different Friday.

"Their two quick goals in the second period changed the entire game," Saginaw defenseman John Gravel said after Toledo defeated the Gears 5-3.

Saginaw had a 3-1 lead at the end of the first period, much to the chagrin of a standing-room-only crowd of 5,589, largest here for hockey in 28 years.

Then the Goaldiggers came alive.

Ian MacPhee scored in the opening minutes of the second period and Darwin Mott hit the net 35 seconds later to tie the game 3-3. John Martin scored what turned out to be the winning goal at 12:15 of the same period.

"It was typical of the way this expansion club has played all year, coming from behind to win," said Toledo Coach Ted Garvin, former Coach of the Detroit Red Wings.

"I just told them after the first period, when we were down 3-1, that 'You just beat two better teams than Saginaw in Columbus and Dayton'" in the Southern Division playoffs.

"I didn't yell at them but they really flew the second period," Garvin said.

Mott, one of the more experienced players on the young team and recipient of the Player of the Game award, said the squad just settled down and "played good defensive hockey."

The only score in the final period was an insurance goal by Toledo's Craig Stamp at 11:19.

Saginaw Coach Don Perry pulled goalie Mario Lessard with 56 seconds left. In the game to put an extra forward on the ice while Toledo had a man in the penalty box. But the Gears never got another shot on goal.

Lessard had 29 saves, while Toledo's goalie Ted Tucker stopped 24 shots.

N. Lincoln Sets Tryouts Saturday

The North Lincoln Boys Baseball Association will hold little league tryouts at Eaton park on Saturday at 1:00 p.m.

Any boy wishing to play who hasn't already signed up in the program may sign between noon and 12:30 p.m. at the park. The tryouts are for 10, 11 and 12-year-old boys.

In case of inclement weather, tryouts will be Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at Eaton park.

Weatherly Boat Leaves Michigan

MENOMINEE, Mich. (AP) — The Weatherly, a 69-foot sailboat which won the Americas Cup race in 1962, has been purchased by its former owners, Allan Buchanan and Lynn Summers of Tacoma, Wash.

The boat was sold in 1968 to the late Douglas Jones of Menominee. It is to be sailed to Milwaukee, and then transported overland to Washington state.

The 12-meter craft competed in the 1972 South Ocean racing circuit, and more recently in the Chicago to Mackinac Island and Port Huron to Mackinac Island races.

Pro, Anti-Pornography Groups Clash At Hearing

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Supporters of the right to enjoy pornography clashed Wednesday with those seeking the freedom to avoid it at a hearing on proposed obscenity legislation.

Bookstores selling pornographic literature and theaters showing hard-core pornography "constitute a moral pollution in the community," Joseph Mahalak, assistant city attorney for East Detroit, told the House Judiciary Committee.

He urged enactment of a new state obscenity law. Adult bookstores and theaters "tend to attract sexual degenerates and pervers, and constitute a safety (threat) for women and children," he said. He said East Detroit has local obscenity ordinances that are not strong enough, and that a state statute would let exhibitors know what is legal or illegal immediately.

"The city of East Detroit and its citizens won't stand still to allow this filth to continue in their community," he added.

But librarian Linda Hamilton of Detroit argued:

"No group of people should tell the rest what they can or can't do. I don't really care if my neighbor wants to see a hard-core movie ... let him." She said police should go after murderers and rapists instead of establishments selling pornography.

Rep. Thaddeus Stopeczynski, D-Detroit, sponsor of an anti-obscenity bill, maintained pornography, "next to broken homes ... is one of the greatest causes of crime in the United States. Pornography can undermine mental health ... kids tend to be long on curiosity. This makes them sitting ducks for smut peddlers."

His bill, which committee Chairman Paul Rosenbaum, D-Battle Creek, said appears to be the best, incorporates Supreme Court standards for determining what is pornographic. It also provides that anyone convicted of distributing such material would be guilty of a misdemeanor on the first two convictions and guilty of a felony thereafter.

The U. S. Supreme Court has ruled contemporary community standards should be the main guideline in determining what is obscene. Michigan's state law does not define what is pornographic except in terms of being "obscene, lewd, lascivious, filthy and indecent," and many consider it vague and unenforceable.

Rosenbaum said the committee will meet to decide "in the near future" whether Michigan should have a new obscenity law and which of the bills to send to the full House.

Former Ann Arbor Mayor Robert Harris, now with the American Civil Liberties Union in Michigan, said there is no evidence obscenity laws improve sexual behavior of citizens. He said the ACLU feels the only obscenity laws that should be kept are "narrow statutes banning the thrusting upon the public of unwanted pornography."

Harris warned obscenity statutes carry "a social cost."

"History is replete with incidents where serious, revered works of art were once censored. You pay a price in art," he said. Censorship of art invites political censorship.

Physician's Strike Is 'Last Resort'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A strike by doctors is a possibility if the legislature fails to enact laws to guarantee malpractice insurance, says the Michigan State Medical Society.

"A strike would be a last resort," said Robert M. Leitch, who announced Wednesday the medical society is canvassing doctors to ask what they would do if there is no malpractice insurance law by June 1.

Leitch, a medical society spokesman, urged the legislature to create an insurance fund and to develop arbitration procedures to handle complaints from patients.

He said the legislature is moving too slowly.

"No bill has passed both houses of the legislature," he complained. "The real substantive issues are still locked in committee."

Insurance companies have raised medical insurance rates and in some cases refused to renew policies because of a rising number of malpractice lawsuits.

Tower Predicts Housing Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senior Republican on the Senate Banking Committee says a presidential veto is almost certain to greet a housing bill being pushed by Democrats as an anti-recession measure.

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., made the prediction as the Senate opened debate Wednesday on the bill which is designed to stimulate 400,000 housing starts and create 800,000 new jobs in the depressed construction industry.

Rail Plan May Be Delayed

CADILLAC, Mich. (AP) — The U.S. Interstate Commerce Commission reportedly wants at least a two-year delay in implementing a railroad reorganization plan in the Midwest and Northeast. Contents of a report by the commission's Rail Services Planning Office were made public Wednesday by television station WWTW in Cadillac. Quoting sources in Washington, the station said the report is highly critical of preliminary reorganization plans drawn by the U.S. Railway Association. Under the preliminary plan, about 1,333 miles of Michigan track would be abandoned unless the state decides to subsidize those lines.

Domestic Car Sales Fall

DETROIT (AP) — Financially troubled Chrysler Corp. suffered a particularly sharp decline in mid-April as domestic car sales fell 18 per cent from a year ago. Chrysler sales in the April 11-20 period plummeted 41 per cent from the same year-ago period. Ford sales were down 24 per cent, General Motors declined 8 per cent and American Motors deliveries were off 7 per cent. The industry's performance — a 14-year low for the period — failed to provide evidence of a spring upturn predicted recently by the companies. Chrysler's showing, it's worst for the period since 1958, came as a surprise to industry analysts.

Election Ruling Due Friday

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Jackson County Circuit Court Judge James Fleming says he may rule Friday on this city's disputed April 7 mayoral election. The unofficial tally gave Democrat Albert Wheeler a victory margin of just over 100 votes against incumbent Republican James Stephenson. But GOP members of the bipartisan city Board of Canvassers refused to certify the results. Wheeler, a University of Michigan microbiology professor, would become the city's first black mayor. The tabulation is now in the hands of the Washtenaw County Board of Canvassers. The county board, like its city counterpart, has two Democratic members and two Republicans.

Discussions Called 'Useful'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Bargainers for school boards and teachers negotiated into the night Wednesday, seeking compromise on legislation to avoid future teacher strikes. The negotiators began marathon sessions Tuesday, met until early Wednesday, then began again in mid-morning. No progress was reported although their discussion was termed "useful." Leading lawmakers kept in constant touch with the bargainers, even though a rapid resolution of their differences looked increasingly unlikely. The unusual closed-door session was called by Democratic leaders upset over the lack of progress on a bill in the House Labor Committee. Lawmakers blamed various interest groups for being unwilling to compromise.

Paper Firm May Reopen Plant

MONROE, Mich. (AP) — Consolidated Packaging Corp. and union officials are discussing the possibility of reopening a plant with a smaller number of workers. The plant closing earlier this year resulted in layoffs for 259 workers. Members of Local 1004 of United Paperworkers International have ratified overwhelmingly an agreement of principles which may persuade the company to reopen the plant, according to Dave Meyers, union recording secretary. The agreement stipulates the union agrees to lose from 77 to 117 jobs if the plant is reopened.

Tot Drowns On Pool Top

FREMONT, Mich. (AP) — A 22-month-old girl drowned Tuesday after toppling into about a foot of rainwater collected upon the plastic covering for a drained swimming pool. Authorities said Julie Ann Rose apparently crawled through a hole cut by runoff beneath a locked fence around the pool. The child was visiting her grandparents near her own home in rural Newaygo County when the mishap occurred.

Petoskey Undecided On Millage

PETOSKEY, Mich. (AP) — Voters in the Petoskey school district may have to wait up to three weeks longer before learning how much millage they will be asked to approve, in a June 9 election. The district's school board set the election date Tuesday but announced no amount. On March 25, district voters rejected 15.9 mills.

AMC Eyes Audi Engine Line?

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors reportedly is negotiating with Audi-NSU to buy a four-cylinder engine production line which would be brought to the United States, according to Automotive News. The weekly industry trade paper said in its latest edition that AMC is said to be testing some of the two-liter, German built engines in some of its current models. The engines manufactured at the line have been used in the Audi 100 models. An AMC spokesman declined immediate comment on the report.

Industry sources say AMC has been looking for a four-cylinder engine to put in its subcompact Gremlin in 1977.

BH Schools' Workshop For Educators, Parents

Some 125 people this weekend are expected to attend the fourth annual workshop sponsored by Benton Harbor Area schools office on compensatory programs.

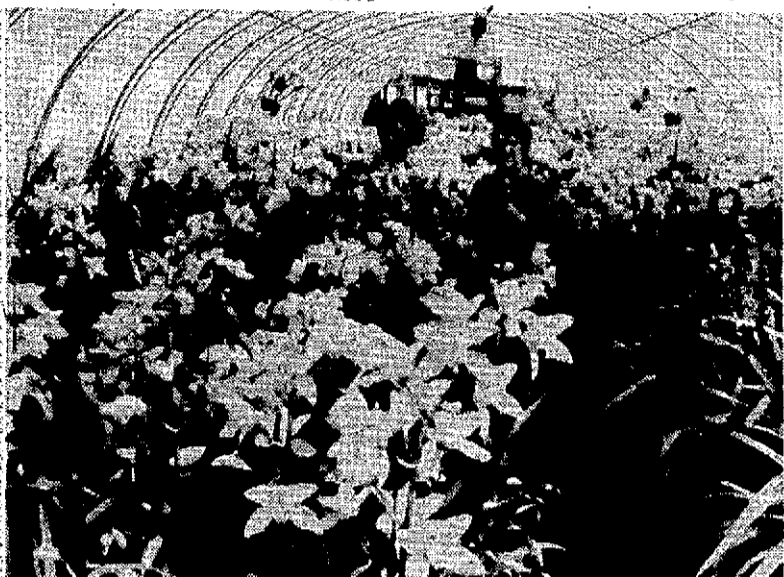

The workshop covers various programs financed by Title I of the Federal Elementary and Secondary act. It begins with registration tomorrow morning and continues through Saturday noon with all sessions at Benton Harbor Holiday Inn.

The workshop features a series of speakers and panel discussions on such topics as child abuse and behavior, reading clinics, a work-study program at Sarett Nature center, family life and drug education.

Mrs. Gladys Burks, coordinator of compensatory programs, said people attending the sessions will be educators from the Benton Harbor districts and other districts around the state and parents. The workshop is in cooperation with the Title I Policy Advisory council of the Benton Harbor district.

Speaker at a banquet Friday evening will be Paul Foss, director of personnel and curriculum for Dowagiac Public schools. Foss is a former principal of Bard school in the Benton Harbor district.

ORCHID SPLENDOR: Estimated 60,000 orchids will be on display this weekend at fifth annual open house sponsored by Dunes Orchid society and Black River Orchids firm at firm's greenhouses in South Haven. Greenhouses are located at end of 77th street, off 14th avenue. Standing among some of orchids to be on display are Ted and Kristin Larson, children of Harold Larsen, owner of firm. Opinions Expressed On Key Topics In News abuses of the rights of Americans.

Further, disclosure requirements endanger the exercise of freedom of speech and political association in that such requirements subject individuals who are publicly associated with unpopular causes to the liability of harassment, surveillance, economic reprisals, eviction from residences, loss of employment, violence, and other such sanctions. (It was only recently revealed that the FBI was engaged in a long standing campaign of infiltration and disruption of the activities of the Socialist Workers Party and of harassment of their members and supporters.)

In addition, disclosure requirements provide every winning candidate with a ready made list of those who support his opponents. And, this could subject every politically active supporter of even major candidates and parties to a whole gamut of harassment, annoyances, and dangers that unscrupulous government officials can bring down upon those they regard as their enemies. (Witness the misuse of the Internal Revenue Service.)

Although there are facts which point to a rational basis and compelling state interest for disclosure, they are far outweighed by the potential effect on protected rights. ACLU of Michigan does not oppose campaign reform per se. We do strongly oppose so-called reforms that violate individual freedoms guaranteed by the Constitutional principles. Further, we urge the public and the Legislature to reject any proposal that seeks to reform our election laws by means that violate or threaten constitutional principles and individual rights.

As the Board of Directors of the American Civil Liberties Union of Michigan stated in resolution at its meeting of February 22nd, "freedom of speech and association can properly only be limited by government where the law has created special status, such as that of corporations and labor organizations."

Our friends in Common Cause are responding to a genuine need in concerning themselves with the manner in which we elect our political leaders. When serious abuses have occurred, as in the events lumped together under the name "Watergate", it is reasonable to seek ways to prevent such occurrences. However, an effort must be made to resist the temptation to hastily adopt alterations in our laws governing political campaigns that may create worse problems than those which originally called for reform. The American Civil Liberties Union of Michigan will continue to oppose reform measures that on examination threaten constitutional principles.

ACLU of Michigan takes no position on the other provisions of the political reform package proposed by Common Cause.

QUESTION YOU NEVER ASKED: Is there something about the daughter of an army colonel that leads to stardom? Well, maybe there is and maybe there isn't but three of the hottest girls in films today — Valerie Perrine of "Lenny," Susan Blakely of "The Towering Inferno," and Charlotte Rampling of "The Night Porter" all have fathers who were colonels.

Barger Engineering, at 112 Main Street, St. Joseph, Michigan and at the Shoreham Village Hall, St. Joseph, Michigan.

Copies of documents including plans and specifications, required for review or bidding purposes may be obtained only from the Engineer by depositing $10.00 with the Engineer for each set of documents so obtained.

Full refund will be given to all who use the documents in a bona fide proposal submitted to the Village of Shoreham and who return the plans within ten (10) days. All non bidders will be refunded one-half the required deposit upon returning the complete documents in good condition to the Engineer within ten (10) days after the bidding date.

A certified check or bank draft payable to the Village Clerk, Village of Shoreham, or a satisfactory bid bond executed by the bidder and a surety company in an amount equal to five percent (5%) of the bid shall be submitted with each proposal.

No bid shall be withdrawn after opening of proposals without the consent of the Village of Shoreham for a period of thirty (30) days after the scheduled time of closing bids.

The Village of Shoreham reserves the right to waive any irregularities, reject any or all bids or accept any bid when in their opinion, such act will serve their best interests.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a satisfactory performance bond and labor and material bond in the amount of one hundred percent (100%) of the contract price.

About 700 people in Van Buren, Cass and Berrien counties have John E. Helme and his staff helping them look for jobs.

Helme is district supervisor of the Vocational Rehabilitation Services (VRS) of the Michigan Department of Education, with offices in the lower office mall of the Fairplain Plaza.

His and his staff's job is to find employment for the physically and mentally disabled of the tri-county area. Helme said about 700 people in the three counties are being served by his office. The VRS deals with any physical or mental disability except near total or total blindness.

Those with blindness in one eye are helped by the VRS. Helme said those with total loss of sight are better served by other agencies in the state set up for their specific needs.

Most of the services from the VRS are free. The main thrust is finding employment, but that is far from all that is done.

Job training, counseling and special services such as hospital diagnosis, treatment, therapy and medication are some of the other services the VRS can provide.

"An average client with a job has paid back in taxes what it has cost to find a job," Helme said.

Helme noted the example of a 37-year-old woman who came to the VRS in 1967. She has rheumatoid arthritis and is confined to a wheelchair.

In September of 1974, she was graduated from college and now works in a hospital as a pharmacist.

"In this case the VRS put out about $4,000 over a period of six years," he said. The money went for an electric wheelchair, tuition, room and board while

Man Sentenced For Slayings

VALPARAISO, Ind. (AP) — A Michigan City man convicted in the shotgun slayings of an elderly Beverly Shores couple was sentenced Thursday to life in prison.

The accused, Sandy Paul Bruce, 27, was convicted April 15 of murdering Stanley Machin, 73, and his wife, Lillian, 70.

The victims, bound and gagged, were found in their home Feb. 4, 1974, after police discovered the Machin's car in downtown Michigan City.

The FBI arrested Bruce eight days later in Fortland, Ala.

They Find Jobs For Disabled

away at school, books and supplies.

The woman now earns about $9,000 a year at her job, Helme said.

The local VRS office had a 1974 case service budget of $220,000. The VRS is 90 per cent federally-funded and 10 per cent state-funded.

To get started a disabled person applies for VRS services and is then contacted by a rehabilitation counselor. The counselor then decides if the person has a handicap which prevents him or her from getting a suitable job or threatens continuance of a present job. Also taken into consideration is whether there is a reasonable chance of that person securing or continuing employment.

However, Helme said there is another "handicap" the VRS must contend with and that is the mental block some employers have about giving the disabled jobs.

"We're selling skills. We have to stress that. If a person has the skills to do a job it shouldn't matter what other handicap he has just so the job gets done," Helme said.

He said the tri-county area covered by his office is better than some of the other areas in the state as far as employers hiring the handicapped. Helme noted the current job market is hard to crack even for those not disabled.

"If an employer has the choice between a handicapped person and one not handicapped, even though the skills are the same, he'll choose the non-handicapped most of the time," Helme said.

To combat this Helme has employers who have hired the handicapped talk to other employers who haven't. Helme said Duane Holt, manager of the St. Joseph Holiday Inn, is a good example of an employer who has hired the disabled and then passed the word on.

Helme said all too often they return to an employer who has hired the handicapped in the past. He said the need is to reach those employers who haven't hired the disabled.

White Males Hit Hardest By Layoffs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Male workers have been harder hit by layoffs than female employees in the last 15 months of the recession and white males have been harder hit than blacks, says the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Commissioner Julius Shiskin reported Wednesday that the number of laid-off men among the unemployed rose 1.6 million or 150 per cent.

For women, the figures were 800,000 or 140 per cent. The white male total rose 163 per cent; the black male total 83 per cent.
